Gabriele Porter Shot Down by a Mexican Federal Army Officer

Total of 20 Americans Killed in Tampico District Since April 7, 1917

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Gabriele Porter, an American citizen in the employ of Penn-Mex Co., was shot and killed by a Mexican federal army officer at Tuxpan, on Dec. 21, according to advices received by the state department today from the American consul at Tampico.

The consul immediately was ordered to report further information. This makes a total of 20 Americans killed in the Tampico district by Mexicans since April 7, 1917. Eighteen were employees of American oil companies.

The Mexican authorities first reported that Porter had been accidentally shot by companion in a party returning from a dance. Investigation by the Penn-Mex officials and the American consul was said to have developed, however, that he was shot by an army officer. Porter's home was in Fullerton, Calif.

CALLS ON MEXICO TO PUNISH MURDERERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Mexican government has been called upon by the state department to use every means possible to apprehend and punish the murderers of F. J. Roney and Earl Bowles, American oilmen in the Tampico fields.

The despatch to the state department reporting the murders said the two men were killed near Port Lobos and that their bodies were discovered Jan. 5. They were employees of the International Petroleum Co. and were supposed to have had the company's pay-roll.

Burns Pleads Not Guilty of Manslaughter

Charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Sylvester Carter, 50, of North Wilmington, who died yesterday at St. John's hospital as a result of injuries received in a recent auto accident, John E. Burns of this city, pleaded not guilty in police court today and was held in $2000 for hearing Jan. 28. He furnished the bonds.

The police allege that Burns is the driver of the machine which struck Carter on Middlesex street Jan. 1. Carter's skull was fractured and all attempts to save his life were futile.

CUNNINGHAM IS MADE LIEUTENANT

Edward J. Cunningham, who is a member of the protective company of the local fire department, has been promoted to Lieutenant. It was learned today, in the latter part of 1918 Mr. Cunningham had been promoted to Lieutenant by the then commissioner, George H. Brown, but when Commissioner Charles J. Morse took over the department, Cunningham, in company with other officers, was demoted. Just before retiring this year, however, Mr. Morse promoted Mr. Cunningham again and he now receives the wages of a Lieutenant.

BIG FORCE RAIDS SINN FEINERS

Soldiers Wearing Helmets and Armed With Rifles and Bayonets in Raid

Search Headquarters at Dublin and Offices of Irish Parliament

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Sinn Fein headquarters in this city were raided this morning by a big force of police and soldiers. The raiders also entered the offices of the Irish parliament and those of the New Ireland Assurance society.

Eighty soldiers armed with rifles with fixed bayonets carried out the raid on the Assurance society's offices. The men, wearing trench helmets, came up in motor lorries to the offices, where it is reported one arrest was made. Michael Staines, Sinn Fein member of parliament, is the chairman of the company.

Large crowds assembled and watched the proceedings in front of the society offices. There was a similar gathering before the Sinn Fein headquarters, where 50 soldiers, accompanied by police, conducted the search.

TAKE MARTENS INTO CUSTODY

Warrant For Arrest and Deportation of "Ambassador" of Russian Soviet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A warrant for the arrest and deportation of Ludwig C. A. K. Martens, self-styled ambassador of the Russian soviet government, has been ordered executed by the department of justice.

Martens, regarded officials said, as the real leader of the communist party in the United States, was said to be in Washington. His arrest was expected soon.

Determination of the government to take Martens into custody was definitely made after all evidence which had bearing on activities of the Russian soviet bureau in New York had been assembled by Assistant Attorney General Garvan. While officials would not disclose the nature of the evidence, they said some of it promised to be sensational.

Martens came to Washington nearly a week ago from New York and with his secretary and other assistants, has occupied a suite at a local hotel less than three blocks from the department of justice. The signatures on the hotel register are those of S. Noytka, who said he was Martens' secretary, and who last night made public a statement attacking the department of justice.

Appearances would indicate that Michael Keelley—for he is still a little lad despite his 13 summers—has been a sojourner at the Middlesex County Juvenile school for some time.

Keelley sure are getting worried.

But to return to the tale of the stolen six-shooter, it happened thus:

ALLEGED DRAFT EVADER CAUGHT

Mother of Accused Man, With Revolver, Held Officers at Bay Several Hours

Police Break Into House and Land Man Sought For Two Years—Mother Arrested

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Grover Bergdoll, one of the two brothers accused of draft dodging and who have been sought by the police for the last two years, was arrested in his mother's home here today.

Detectors broke into the house by the front and rear entrances. They found Grover Bergdoll wrapped in a blanket, hiding in a box seat.

The search for the Bergdolls took the federal agents all over the country.

Grover got away in a high powered motor car and reports reached the city that he was seen in various sections of the west. He sent impudent messages written on postcards to the authorities. Once he was seen in Mexico and again in Cuba. He was provided with a large sum of money. His mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdoll, is the widow of a wealthy brewer.

Although born in this country, the Bergdolls were of German descent and declared they would never fight against

Germany. Mrs. Bergdoll was arrested several times on the charge of obstructing the draft.

Later Mrs. Bergdoll was arrested, charged with obstructing justice. With a revolver she had kept the officers at bay for several hours. An officer of the department of justice said Berg-doll probably would be turned over to the military authorities.

Another Larceny at the Police Station—Boy Steals Revolver

Lowell police are a badly worried lot these days.

And you can't blame them, either. Short time ago someone stole over $1000 worth of whiskey from the cellar of the bastille.

Then this morning thirteen-year-old Michael Keeley stole Sgt. Bigelow's trusty six-shooter from its resting place in Capt. Brosnan's desk in the police station.

Cops are wondering now if somebody will get after their uniforms next.

Yes, they sure are getting worried.

But to return to the tale of the stolen six-shooter, it happened thus:

Little Michael Keeley—for he is still a little lad despite his 13 summers—has been a sojourner at the Middlesex County Juvenile school for some time.

As far as can be recalled, there has been no case in the city's history exactly parallel to that which now threatens the health and perhaps the lives of people who occupy the tenements in question. The ironical situation of a plague or epidemic being started in the centre of one of the city's most populous districts which may develop into city-wide proportions has seldom been equalled in a community of the size of Lowell.

The water was shut off on Dec. 29 by the water department because of the failure of the owner of the property to pay water bills for the last three quarters, or nine months. The bills amount to about $100. The tenants have paid their rent regularly and do not understand the legal system which allows them to be deprived of a necessity of life in the depth of winter through no fault of their own.

Pay Bills Only Remedy

Officials of the board of health and the water department were approached on the matter and told of the plight of the tenants and the suffering of children, especially, who are living there. But they could see no way in which the matter could be remedied until the water bill was paid.

The crux of the situation seems to be in the fact that the property is now in a state of transfer and that none of the parties involved in the transfer is willing to acknowledge the ownership of the property and the assumption of the water debt.

City Solicitor William D. Regan was asked this noon upon whom the obligation of paying the bills would fall in a case of that kind and he said it would be a simple matter to ascertain the rightful owner by looking up the record of transactions.

Mayor Calls Conference

Then Mayor Thompson was told of the circumstances surrounding the case and when he learned of the plight of the tenants he called the council of war which has been previously mentioned. In the meantime, the water remains shut off when a turn of a wrench would relieve suffering and possible death.

John P. Salmon, commissioner of the water department, when questions on the matter this morning said: "I haven't had time to give the matter much consideration and am not very familiar with the circumstances. But from what I can learn, the water department was forced to shut off the water because of the terms of a city ordinance and

I don't see how I can violate that ordinance."

Agent Francis J. O'Hare, of the board of health, is anxious to have the water turned on purely from a sanitary standpoint but he says that he has no power to make the water

POLICE BALL BEST EVER

Associate Hall Scene of Annual Event of Lowell's Peace Preservers

One of the most pretentious events of the winter season was staged in Associate Hall last evening when the Lowell Police Relief association gave its 32nd annual ball. The hall was a veritable bower of beauty; the dancing floor a sea of happy, smiling faces; and everyone, without exception, had a truly "wonderful" time.

A record-breaking crowd was on hand for the occasion, and unanimous

The Wonderful Ball

All day Nancy and Nick had hunted for Jacko. But even with their green shoes and the magical mushroom to help them they had had no success. Finally they arrived at the hay den and spent a long time playing in the great stack piled up near the gate. They pretended it was an enchanted mountain and contained a treasure.

Nick found a curious round ball and after examining it the children decided to have a game. The ball was woven of straw and fine twigs and made a splendid plaything. After a while the twins saw Mr.

"Can we help you hunt for them?" Mr. Mouse stroked his whiskers thoughtfully. "Did you see Caesar, the cat, around anywhere?" he asked. "Or Oscar Owl, or Sam Sank?"

Nancy shook her head. "No, we didn't see any of them."

Mr. Mouse began to sniffle. "Oh my! The children will all be sick if they're not properly watched. Mignonette has a cold anyway, and Maudie Marie is subject to croup; and—"

If a cathartic or laxative is needed take Hood's Pills Purely Vegetable.

Suddenly Mrs. Mouse shrieked, "Why, there they are, sticking out of your pocket!"

and Mrs. Harvest Mouse rushing about in great excitement, so they stopped their game and Nick thrust the ball into his pocket.

"What is it, Mrs. Mouse?" asked Nancy. "Is anything wrong?"

"Anything wrong?" cried Mrs. Mouse. "I should say so! While we were away from home, thieves broke in and kidnapped our family. All the children are gone."

"Oh, that's too bad!" declared Nanand the invited guests included His Honor, Mayor Percy D. Thompson and members of the city government.

The decorations were splendid. A profusion of purple and white streamers were suspended from the balconies to the large chandelier in the centre of the hall, and this was colorfully draped with the emblems of the allied nations. Vari-colored lighting effects, white-curtained windows, and festoons of orange and white bunting added to the completeness of the decorative scheme. The stage, too, was arrayed in gala dress, with potted palms, American flags and greenery the predominating features.

A delightful concert, given by Markham's talented corps of musicians, opened the evening's festivities. The program follows:

Liberty Bell March.....Sousa
Spanish Waltz.....Waldorf Lusitania Overture.....Selected
National Emblem.....Bagley

Following the concert program both young and old joined in tripping the measures of dreamy waltz and zipful, jazzy fox trots. And when the clock registered 2 a.m., it was with regret that they donned their wraps preparatory to the homeward journey.

Supt. Welch, general manager of the event, was everywhere. Busy, courteous and efficient, he contributed in no small degree to the success of the evening's program. To Deputy Supt. Downey, assistant general manager and Patrolman Patrick H. Bagley, floor director, must also be given a large share of credit for the results achieved.

WELCOME WORLD WAR VETERANS

General Adelbert Ames
Camp No. 19 Honors
Its Service Members

New Veterans Welcomed by
Comrades of a Previous
War—Eloquent Addresses

General Adelbert Ames Camp, No. 19, of the United Spanish War Veterans of this city, tendered a welcome home reception to 19 of its world war veterans in Memorial hall last evening that must have thrilled the gallant hearts of the honored veterans of two wars and certainly made a deep impression on the several hundred members of the camp, of Edith Prescott Wolcott Ladies auxiliary and various invited guests, all of whom united in a program of welcome patriotically in harmony with the traditions of the heroes of '98.

The reception was one of the most successful of the many already held in Lowell and perhaps the greatest factor in the success was that the new veterans were being welcomed by their comrade veterans of a previous war who by their own experiences were cognizant of the great test that their honored guests had met.

A bounteous banquet served shortly after 7 o'clock by Caterer Harvey preceded the formalities of the evening. Members of the camp, escorting their wives and sisters, marched into the hall and stood at their places while the world war men filed triumphantly into the scene of welcome reception. The Bay State quartet of Boston, one of the best heard in Lowell in many months, entertained with selections during the meal and afterward.

The speakers of the evening included among others, Albert P. Langtry, secretary of state; Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston; Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Timothy W. Kelley, department commander of the United Spanish War Veterans of this section. Invocation was said by Rev. William F. Dusseault.

William M. Prescott, commander of the post, called to order shortly after 8 o'clock and introduced Frank Dodge as the toastmaster of the evening.

Toastmaster Dodge welcomed the veterans of the world war in a fitting address, pointed out the unique honor they had of being the veterans of two wars and emphasized the fact that the Spanish war was the only war that the United States had taken part in which had been fought wholly by volunteers.

"At the present time," he said, "we bear much about Americanism. I want to tell you that the Spanish American war veterans are 100 percent American—just as Americans as any other body in this country. If anybody doubts that statement, let him look at our book of ceremonies, every bit of which has to do with the upholding of our flag and country. I can assure the officials of our city, our state and our nation that any time there is a call to uphold the honor of the republic the Spanish War veterans will be ready to go to the front line of duty."

RELEIVED HIS BACKACHE
"It gives me great pleasure to recommend Foley Kidney Pills as in my case they relieved me of a severe backache that had bothered me for several months. A few pills now put me in good shape." —Jos. G. Wolf, 734 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis.

Foley Kidney Pills

give quick and permanent relief from kidney or bladder trouble that have not reached a chronic or bad stage. They stop bladder irregularities, strengthen the kidneys and tone up the liver. When the kidneys are properly functioning, they filter and cast out from the blood the impurities that cause aches and pains. In the end may lead to serious illness. If you have any cause to suspect that your kidneys need help, you will make no mistake in taking Foley's Kidney Pills.

Are You Suspicious of Your Health?

One may not be actually sick, yet feel so tired and languid, low-spirited and ambitious, that he can not truthfully say he is in good health. The kidneys work all the time, night and day, and it is no wonder that they become weak, sore or diseased. Nearly everybody suffers from kidney trouble or bladder ailments. Nature gives warning signals by backache, lameness, stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatic pains, puffiness under the eyes and blurred vision.

RELEIVED HIS BACKACHE
"It gives me great pleasure to recommend Foley Kidney Pills as in my case they relieved me of a severe backache that had bothered me for several months. A few pills now put me in good shape." —Jos. G. Wolf, 734 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis.

Presented BILL-FOLDS

Arthur F. Salmon, an honorary member of the camp, was next called upon and after dwelling upon the splendid record of the veterans before him in the two wars, proceeded to the pleasant duty of presenting each of the world war veterans of the camp a handsomely engraved leather bill-fold, bearing the name and insignia of the camp as well as the name of the recipient. As Alexander D. Mitchell, secretary of the camp, read the names of the heroes, Mr. Salmon presented the souvenirs and those present applauded. When the name of Priv. William B. Coleman was read, Toastmaster Dodge paid a fitting tribute to him as the one member of the camp who had given up his life in France and the souvenir of this comrade was presented to his wife. The quartet sang an appropriate hymn as a mark of respect for the deceased veteran and the assemblage stood with heads bowed.

The Roll of Honor
The nineteen veterans who survived the rigors of two wars and who were honored last evening were the following:

Col. Alexander Greig, Jr., Major Colby T. Kittredge, Captain Thomas W. Doyle, Captain Augustus M. Duncan, Captain James N. Greig, Capt. Walter R. Jevs, Lieutenant Commander Wm. E. Dobbs, Lieutenant Charles J. Duffy, Lieutenant Michael H. Harrington, Lieutenant Lewis G. Hunton, Sergeant Walter L. Cutler, Sergeant Frank Hutchins, Sergeant Patrick H. Wallace, Corporal Eugene L. Aldrich, Corporal Thomas W. F. Bagley, Corporal Nero Turgon, Private John A. Delmore, Private Cornelius F. Buckley, Seaman Patrick G. Lynch.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was then introduced and in a characteristic vein he opened with a few delightful anecdotes of his own connection with the Spanish war as well as with the more recent conflict. Becoming more serious, he said that on the surface the war of 1898 might have seemed small and unimportant but that in reality it was a cog in a very important machine. He referred to the attempts of the Bolsheviks to gain a foothold in this country and said that as he travelled about Lowell and mingled with its people, he became convinced that the radical element would find it hard to gain a foothold in this city. In conclusion, he asked that all present pledge themselves anew to be faithful to their comrades, to their comrades and to their country.

Hon. Albert P. Langtry

Then came the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Albert P. Langtry, secretary of the commonwealth. With his usual vigor and forceful eloquence of a type that reminded one not a little of the Rooseveltian manner of speaking, Mr. Langtry glorified the part this country played in the Spanish and world wars, assailed those enemies of the nation which are now trying to destroy it and pleaded for active preparation as a preventive of future wars.

He said in part: "America has been in many wars, but never has she fought for the right more gallantly than in the world war. This is a great country of great resources but she has always gone into her wars unprepared. She was unprepared at the time she entered the Spanish war, but two men among her leaders tried to show her her blunder. One of them was Theodore Roosevelt and the other Augustus P. Gardner, who gave up his life for his country. "Do you realize that comparatively America was nothing in the world war? Do you realize that there were 50 British soldiers and 60 French soldiers killed to every one American soldier? Do you realize that nearly every woman in Great Britain and France is wearing black tonight because some member of nearly every British and French family gave up his life in this terrible, terrible war?" This great war has accomplished one great thing—it has broken down the barriers between religions, Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Gentile, were united by a common purpose. When Clemenceau wanted a man to take command of the allied armies he went to Foch. Foch told him that he was not the man for the job because he was a religious man, and Clemenceau replied that that was just why they wanted him.

Every Nation Has Traitors
"Every nation in war has traitors and our own country had ten times as many as other countries in this recent war. I believe we had a million traitors here during the war—not active traitors, but men and women who were wishing that Germany would win. You know how the secret service rounded up these people and put them in confinement until the war was ended. That is not what I would do with traitors in time of war. At daybreak I'd stand them up in front of a squad of soldiers and I'd shoot them dead."

"I have a theory which I believe would make the United States the greatest fighting country in the world. I'd suggest that congress enact a law that would take every young man at his eighteenth birthday and give him a year's military training under a West Point officer.

"But that would take a year out of his life, some of the timid may say. I tell you it would not take a year out of his life, but rather add a year to it. I have never seen anything as wonderful as the physical development of our young men who served in the world war. Roosevelt said that if we had been prepared for war we should never have gone into it. The Lusitania should never have been sunk. Give us the biggest and strongest army and navy in the world and we'll never go into war."

"Your distinguished mayor referred in his address to Bolshevism. I've been talking Bolshevik steadily every night for the past three weeks until I'm about talked out on it, but I do want to say that it is a terrible menace. There are more Bolsheviks in Massachusetts than any other state in the country and there are no less than 27 Bolshevik societies right here in this commonwealth. I am told by those who know, that the strongest Bolshevik movement in the state is in Boston, Lowell, Lawrence and Lynn, so you see you have the menace right in your own city."

"The democratic administration in Washington has been doing the best job since it got into office during the last few days when it has collared these Bolsheviks and ordered them deported to Russia."

"In closing, the secretary expressed the good wishes of Governor Coolidge who was unable to be present because, Mr. Langtry said, "he is busy with his presidential campaign. His is a very serious candidacy and I am frank to say that I believe him thoroughly qualified for that high office."

Rev. William F. Dusseault

Rev. William F. Dusseault, a veteran chaplain of the Spanish War veterans, was the next speaker and in a stirring delivered address he pointed out that the Spanish war was a short one because it had been over speedily and thoroughly by the men who fought it. He said that the election of Col. Logan as state commander of the legion and Louis Frothingham as vice-commander.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston, was next on the program and owing to his haste to make a train, his address was cut short but what there was of it showed "Honey Fitz" in his best style. He depicted the spirit which prompted people to look upon the Spanish war as a "small war" because he said there was never a body of men more willing to sacrifice their lives for their country than the Spanish war veterans. The developments which began the war, if not checked by the American fighters, might have led to the enrolling of all Europe. He deemed it one of the greatest honors of his life to be an honorary member of the United Spanish War Veterans. And just to give the final characteristic Fitzgeraldian touch, the former mayor sang the chorus of his beloved "Sweet Adeline." The applause which followed him as he left the hall was deafening.

William A. Arnold, superintendent of state aid, and Lawrence Cummings, were the final speakers and each was in a most enjoyable mood. The program closed with the general singing of "America."

The committee in charge of the evening's arrangements was:

Frank Dodge, chairman; William J. Bradley, Joseph F. Murphy, Arthur F. Salmon, honorary member; Wm. M. Prescott, commander; Alexander D. Mitchell, secretary.

One of the rarest of animals, the giant panda, believed to be the only specimen in America, is now in the New York Museum of Natural History. The skin was obtained by a missionary in western China.

JOHN McMANUS DEAD

Well Known Constable and Children's Friend Passed Away Last Night

Lowell loses a familiar face and thousands of children will keenly feel the loss of a tried and true friend in the death of Constable John McManus, 43 Bartlett street. His age was 57 years. He had been in failing health for some time, although it was only recently that he was confined to his home.

As a constable Mr. McManus was widely known, but as a friend of human on the warmth of their greeting and show of appreciation on public day.

Although this annual event entailed a lot of hard work in preparation and more to carry it safely through, Mr. McManus felt richly paid. In the thought that his feeble contribution to the happiness of these children was unstintedly appreciated. He got real joy through giving and long will be remembered as John McManus, the children's friend.

Deceased served as a constable for several years. He was a member of Division 11, A.O.H., the Y.M.C.A. and the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church. He leaves one son, John F. McManus, who now is serving as a constable.

U. S. LEADS WORLD

Makes More Cotton Yarn and Consumes More Raw Cotton Than Any Nation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The United States manufactures more cotton yarn and consumes more raw cotton than any other country in the world, the tariff commission announced today in reporting results of a special investigation.

More than 95 per cent of cotton yarn required for domestic industry is produced in the United States, the report said, and imports of cotton yarn are mainly supplemental. Some changes in tariff duties were recommended by the commission.

B. F. KEEF'S THEATRE

Ruth Royce at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is the 100th guest artist. The little singing comedienne, despite the handicap of a cold, rouses audiences to a wonderful pitch of enthusiasm. She possesses the knack of "putting over" song as few others can boast of. Her work is decidedly clever. The dancing of W. Horlick and the Sarampa Sisters is not especially good feature. Horlick was formerly in the support of Anna Pavlova. The Sarampa Sisters are comely young women who surely know how to dance, and they are specially attractive. In the interpretive number set to the music of a Liszt Hungarian rhapsody, signified airy and up to the minute act. Landford and Reed, the stars in their comedy "Shopkeepers." Other good things on the week's bill are: Reed & Tucker, violinists; the Four Buttercups, singers, and Miss Lately's Canine Models.

OPERA HOUSE

"The Big Chance," Willard Mack's stage triumph of recent date, which was released for stock use within a few weeks, is being given its first local production, and one of the first stock productions in the country, this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House. It's the story of New England and all its woes after the war, in which the world war is used as the instrument that redeems them both. Miss Marguerite Fields and John Mehan have wonderfully interesting parts that offer them excellent opportunity to display their unusual talents. See them both at the excellent supporting cast, including Howard Sterling, William Melville, mingle in the moonlight. This is but one of the many delightful moments in this new Ray production.

Dainty Olive Thomas in "Out Yonder," Pictorial Life and a recently released news picture are the other features.

OWL THEATRE

Today is the last day for the remarkable program now running at the Owl Theatre. Remarquable Indeed is the work of the Jap, Sessue Hayakawa, in his newest, latest and greatest production. No admirer of his ability as an actor should miss this picture, for it's entirely different from anything which he has ever done and very, very much different from the average picture story. To miss this "Long Man" is to miss the greatest work of this wonderfully talented actor. Then, too, one might overlook Olive Thomas, who also has won much fame as a stage star and model. Her portrayal of the chorus girl in "The Folies Girl" is worth while. Baby Gloria Joy in "Corlaine, Come Here" in two reels; Fatty Arbuckle and Fred Sterling in "The Life of Riley" and the Pathé News silent serials make up a bill which should send all the movie fans on the run to the Owl. Coming Thursday is William Russell in "She Feet Four" from the novel of the same name, which is now in the fourth edition. It's real; it's red-blooded, it's playful, it's gay, it's witty, it's fresh, it's fun. It's more evidence that the management is keeping to its promise to deliver high grade pictures. Monday will bring Charlie Chaplin in his fourth million-dollar picture, "A Day of Pleasure."

BERGER DRIVEN OUT OF JERSEY CITY

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Jan. 7.—Victor L. Berger, representative-elect from the 5th Wisconsin district, was escorted out of Jersey City last night by Chief of Police Battersby. He was scheduled to speak at a widely advertised mass meeting under the auspices of the Socialist Educational club. With Berger went Oscar Ameringer, his first Lieutenant, also advertised as a speaker.

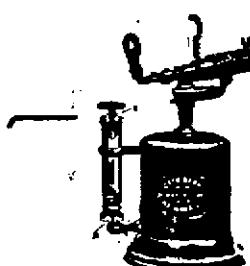

The police refused to permit the meeting to be held.

man kind his acquaintances were legion. For years he had conducted an annual picnic and outing for the poorer children of the city, first at Mountain Rock and later at Spaulding. Each in succession was more eagerly anticipated than the one of the preceding year.

For hundreds of children each year this picnic was a real gala day, the only event of its kind in their pleasure-restricted lives, and they had come to look upon Honest John as a sort of fairy godfather, who gave them all they desired in terms of care-free recreation. TO DISCUSS DISPOSAL OF BONDED WHISKEY

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 7.—George F. Dellerie, Cincinnati distiller, has been authorized to appoint a committee to go to Washington and discuss with the federal officials the problem of disposing of the bonded whiskey in the United States. This was announced at the close of a meeting of 100 distillers from all sections of the country here yesterday. Mr. Dellerie presided at the conference.

Of the total of 60,000,000 gallons of bonded whiskey in the United States 35,000,000 gallons are in warehouses in Kentucky.

No way of disposing of this immense quantity of liquor, valued at hundreds of millions of dollars, has been provided by congress except by exporting and even that will be prohibited after Jan. 16 when the federal dry amendment goes into effect.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A very enthusiastic meeting of the members of the C.M.A.C. took place last evening in the quarters of the association in Pawtucket street, the occasion being the annual installation of officers. President Adolphe O. Brassard occupied the chair, the attendance was large, considerable business was transacted and a social hour was held at the close of the business session.

In the early part of the evening the recently elected officers were inducted into office by Lawyer Arthur L. Eno, those taking the oath of office being as follows: Adolphe C. Brassard, president; Frank Leclair, vice president; Thomas Berube, recording secretary; Joseph Simard, assistant recording secretary; Adelard Chinqars, corresponding secretary; Joseph L. Lamoureux, treasurer; Napoleon L'ozneau, financial secretary; Donat Champagne, assistant treasurer; Albert Guilbault, first marshal; George Simard, second marshal; Michel Drouin, librarian; William Lussier, Paul Ledeau and Albert Simard, directors; Joseph Ouellette, interior sentinel; Albert Lutz, exterior sentinel; Dr. George E. Culise, physician.

At the close of the installation President Brassard was presented a handsome shaving set as a token of appreciation for services rendered the association, the presentation address being delivered by Lawyer Eno. Interesting remarks were made by President Brassard, Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I., chaplain of the organization; Rep. Henry Achin, Lawyer Eno and others.

Loyal Wameet Lodge

At a meeting of the members of Loyal Wameet Lodge, I.O.O.F., M.U., held last evening, the newly elected officers of the organization were inducted into office by Deputy George Emley and suite, the new officers being as follows: Freeman Lightowler, G.M.; William H. Howe, N.G.; George E. Heeloy, V.G.; Thomas Robinson, P.G.; Isaac Tinker, treasurer; Hugh Ferguson, E.S.; E. J. David, physician; P. N. Brunelle, druggist; Arthur Willis, Arthur Capper, John Foster, auditors;

Frank Cleveland, R.S. to N.G.; William Bannister, L.S. to N.G.; John Corfield, R.S. to V.G.; William Waterman, L.S. to V.G.; Arthur Capper, chaplain and L.S.; Malcolm Fryer, O.G.; Alford Hill, L.O.; Arthur J. Willis, warden, and William Mack, conductor. A past grand's emblem was presented P.G. William Mack and certificates were granted to the following past grands to take the purple lecture, John Corfield, John W. Foster, Frank Cleveland and William Mack.

Wameet Staff Association

The installation of the recently elected officers of Wameet Staff association took place at a meeting held Sunday and the men inducted into office were as follows: Richard Holden, president; John Mills, vice president; Willis Bowles, secretary; Arthur Willis, treasurer; Fred Chapman, relief committee. Routine business was transacted.

BOARD OF TRADE SMOKER TOMORROW

It is estimated that between four and five hundred Lowell citizens will attend the board of trade smoker tomorrow evening in Memorial hall, when the opening guns of the reorganization and membership campaign will be fired. The meeting will provide the first infection of pep and interest in the drive which will culminate in a chamber of commerce, city-wide in scope, impartial in its activities and ever-ready to serve

Lowell in any capacity.

In the unavoidable absence of Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Commissioner George E. Marchand, as president of the municipal council, will represent the city and extend the greetings of the public. The principal speaker will be George Dugan, a director in the Albany chamber of commerce and a former governor of the Rotary clubs of eastern New York. He is a brilliant and illuminating speaker and will be heard with much interest.

Another speaker will be Seward B. Price, executive secretary of the Bridgeport, Conn., chamber of commerce, and considered to be one of the best civic organizers in New England. His work in Bridgeport has stamped him a man of action and accomplishment and he will have a vitally interesting story to tell of things actually done in his city since the reorganization took place there several years ago. The city has a chamber of nearly 1300 members, who work day by day to make the community a better place in which to live.

BEWARE MR. BACHELOR FOR LEAP YEAR IS UPON US

If a Fair Maiden "Vamps" You It Is Up to You to Accept Her or Pay the Toll ---Might Play "Hard-of-Hearing" Act

BY LORRY A. JACOBS,
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—If a coy maiden, possessed of endearing charms, casts amorous glances at you, unmarried man, during this leap year, either flee as fast as your legs will carry you, have a sigh of resignation and prepare for the wedding bells, or get out your checkbook.

These are the three alternatives, according to Miss Margaret Lawrence, erstwhile star of "Wedding Bells," playing on Broadway. Miss Lawrence recently trotted over to the Carnegie library and dug out some history in regard to leap year, which she says is so promising that she's thinking of forming a society—the Society for the Prevention of Unmarried Men of Comfortable Income.

Select to Be Foused.

There's plenty of solace and comfort in leap year for the girl who has not yet marched down the aisle to the long-burden strains. Miss Lawrence found that, according to the law in England—the common law, which is a basis for the law we now use—a spinster, during leap year, may propose to the man of her choice, and he must accept, give her a silk dress, of a kiss, or all three. Miss Lawrence also found plenty of other justification for leap year. For in the old Scotch law is the following: "It is statut and ordaint that during the reid of her maist blisit Mageste,

INTEREST RATES ON BANK BALANCES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A second conference of representatives of clearing house associations and federal reserve board officials will be held in Chicago on Jan. 23, when another effort will be made to reach an agreement on the question of interest rates on bank balances. Health came back with
for Pale and Weak Women.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU

Being the mother of a large family, besides having been the victim of three premature illnesses, I was in such a weakened condition that I really thought I was going to die. One day someone hinted that I should give RED PILLS a trial; I immediately started taking them, and continued doing so for about eight months. I gradually noticed that I was getting stronger, and so kept up the treatment for a year, with the result that I was completely recovered. Since that time, I have given birth to several children, who are all healthy and fine, thanks to my improved state of health after taking RED PILLS.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU,

RED PILLS are for women only.
They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "France American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

TO DEMAND EXTRADITION OF FORMER KAISER

AMERONGEN, Tuesday Jan. 6.—Alled demands for the extradition of former Emperor William of Germany, in which it is known America will not participate, are expected at The Hague about Jan. 15.

Recent press despatches have stated

Count Hohenlohe might surrender rather than embarrass The Netherlands government, but it is authoritatively reported he will rely on the protection of Holland and her refusal to honor the allied demand. Only the erstwhile kaiser and his closest advisers know definitely his plans, but, unless he changes his mind, it is learned, he is determined to settle down to life at Doorn, where his house is being rushed to completion. More workmen were sent from here to Doorn yesterday.

TO CELEBRATE "PROHIBITION EVE"

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The celebration of a "prohibition eve" on Jan. 16 promises to surpass any New Year's eve event in the history of New York. Judging by the rush of applications for reserved tables at hotels. Managers of the Waldorf-Astoria, Claridge, the McAlpin and other hotels announced today that patrons, who wished to be present when John Barleycorn's official "swan song" is sung, have declared that they intend to celebrate his "wake" in the manner that has come into vogue since the advent of wartime prohibition.

The patrons will carry to the tables their own wines and other alcoholic liquors and celebrate in public for the last time "the passing of the old, the coming of the new."

Only Question To Be Taken

Up at Conference of Premiers and Ministers

PARIS, Jan. 7.—Fiume will be the only question discussed at the conference of premiers and foreign ministers to be held next Monday, according to information emanating from semi-official headquarters.

Premiers Lloyd George and Nitti are expected to arrive in Paris Saturday evening and it is said the former desired the Turkish question taken up Monday, at which time the British would seek to carry their point in having the transfer of the Turkish government to Asia Minor decided upon. It is understood, however, that Premier Clemenceau has informed the British and Italian leaders he would be unable to commence discussion of the Turkish question on the eve of the resignation of his cabinet, and amidst the excitement of the French presidential election. The Turkish question therefore has been postponed until later, but the Adriatic problem will come up immediately.

1 and 4—Pliny W. Horne, Universal camera man, and William Stowell, Universal director, both Americans, who made the first trip to the bottom of Victoria Falls. Stowell was killed and Horne badly injured in a railroad wreck shortly after their falls adventure. 2—Stowell in helmet, and Thomas McEwen, veteran "rigger," on Livingston Island, picking out a place of descent on opposite wall of cliff. 3—Horne starting his descent near Danger Point, into 400-foot chasm of Victoria Falls. Whirlpool rapids and part of rock wall near Rainbow Falls shown in the background. 5—Map showing Victoria Falls, Rainbow Falls, Boiling Pot and Danger Point (indicated by star), where Horne and Stowell went "over the top" and down into rock pit where man never had been before.

The descent of Victoria Falls, in South Africa, by William Stowell and Pliny Horne, was the last spectacular stunt in the life of Stowell, and the last, for a long time, at least, for Horne. Stowell, with Dr. J. R. Armstrong, business manager of the Smithsonian African expedition, was killed in a railroad wreck in Belgian Congo, a few days after history had been made in the Falls adventure. Horne was injured in the wreck and is being invalided to America.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent With Smithsonian-Universal African Expedition

VICTORIA FALLS, South Africa.—Two daring Americans have performed a world-beating feat—the descent of Victoria Falls.

Scaling a precipice of 350 feet with a rope, they accomplished a hazardous climb down the remaining rocks to the water's edge at the extreme bottom of the great pit—a total of more than 400 feet—and stood where no human foot has ever trod.

First to penetrate the pit were Pliny W. Horne and William Stowell, both of Los Angeles.

Horne is a camera man and Stowell a film director for the Universal Film Co. They are members of the Smithsonian African Expedition, a party of scientists and motion picture men touring Africa.

Never in history, since the Missionary-Explorer Dr. Livingstone discovered Victoria Falls in 1855, has any living thing been at the bottom of the chasm, save baboons and birds.

AMERICANS ARE FIRST AGAIN

Daring Adventurers Make History in Descent of Victory Falls

Movie Men With the Smithsonian Expedition Stage a Real Thriller

To appreciate what the Americans did: Imagine a cleft in the earth 400 feet deep and of a width varying from 250 to 400 feet; sheer, perpendicular cliffs, absolutely without footholds; the chasm at right angles to the Zambezi river, which cascades over the one long side of the narrow, longitudinal pit, leaving the opposite cliff bare, mist-bathed and forbidding; imagining the chasm a hole in the earth, with only one narrow outlet near one end, a gateway with rocky sides falling vertically into a swirling pool of water, a maelstrom aptly called the Boiling Pot.

Had the rope broken there would have been no escape for Stowell or Horne from the bottom of the pit. They couldn't scale the sides. They couldn't swim the whirlpool current. There was just a narrow ledge to stand on, no path along the bottom's edge to the gateway from the chasm into the gorge.

And Stowell and Horne made not one descent—but two. Previous to penetrating the full distance, they first went over the cliff of Cataract Island to the bottom of Devil's cataract, the most westerly cascade of Victoria Falls, a distance of 260 feet.

This stunt was a motion picture triumph. For the camera, set up on the narrow ledge at the bottom, covered

HAVE YOU RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY, LIVER OR BLADDER TROUBLE?

Pain or dull ache in the back is often evidence of kidney trouble. It is nature's timely warning to show you at the track of health is not clear.

Danger Signals

If these danger signals are unheeded more serious results are sure to follow; kidney trouble in its worst form may steal upon you.

Thousands of people have testified that the mild and immediate effect of Swamp-root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine is soon realized—that it stands the highest for its remarkable curative effect in the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine, you should have the best.

Lame Back

Lame back is only one of many symptoms of kidney trouble. Other symptoms showing that you may need Swamp-root are, being subject to cramps and frequent bladder

SPECIAL NOTE—You may obtain a sample size bottle of Swamp-Root by enclosing 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. This gives you the opportunity to know the valuable merit of this medicine. They will also send you a book of valuable information containing many of the thousands of grateful letters received from men all over the country who have used Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed in kidney, liver and bladder troubles. The value and success of Swamp-root are so well known that our readers are advised to send for a sample size bottle. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. spectacular and unprecedented feat, a hand winch and 550 feet of rope were brought from Bulawayo, 280 miles away. The winch was set up on the top of the cliff and weighted with boulders, the rope passing over a log lodged at the edge. The winch was operated by Thomas McEwen of Bulawayo, veteran and expert "rigger," and a crew of Barotse natives.

A board saddle was rigged up at one end of the rope. Horne was tied in. Then, armed with a stick to fend himself from the jagged sides of the rock wall, he went over the edge of the precipice backward and was slowly let down.

After he disappeared over the brink he was invisible to the men at the winch. So other members of the Smithsonian party, led by Dr. J. R. Armstrong of Los Angeles, stood watch on the opposite side of the chasm. Here also was posted another movie camera, operated by Henry N. Kohler of Chilongo, taking long distance pictures of the descent. With binoculars trained on the descending man—who seemed to be crawling down the sheer wall like a fly, for only the swaying guide rope could be seen, and not the black rope bearing the weight—Dr. Armstrong watched for signals of distress.

After Horne reached the bottom and untied himself in a blinding rainstorm or mist from the adjacent Devil's cataract, that left him drenched, dripping and cold, the camera, the tripod and other paraphernalia were lowered down to him one at a time. Then Stowell made the descent.

Took a Day to Set Camera

The slow work of letting two men down and the separate pieces of camera equipment and the tedious, perilous climbing over rocks at the bottom to set up the camera consumed the whole day.

Next day the second and most spectacular descent was made. On the third day, directly opposite Rainbow Falls, the camera men "shot" some beautiful scenes.

This stunt was a motion picture triumph. For the camera, set up on the narrow ledge at the bottom, covered against the sheer wall of rock, loosened a fair-sized stone.

I saw that piece of rock start down. Then I heard it land—kerplunk at the bottom of the chasm. It sounded dreadful. I wondered if it would sound the same if I fell. When I reached the bottom, drenched from the mist, and got the knots untied and was free from the seat, I scrambled over the slippery rocks and searched in my pockets for a dry piece of paper. Then I wrote a note to Stowell, to send up on the rope. The best way I could describe it was like this:

"Slippery as hell! Bring your stick to keep yourself away from the wall. Fine ride when you get used to it."

Backing over the edge was a ticklish job, even if I was hanging onto a wire rope guaranteed to hold two tons.

Two or three months after I left the new solid ground on top of the cliff—it seemed that long—I swung out from the rock wall. I felt myself spinning like a top.

I suddenly felt sorry for myself. It seemed to be all over with William! I wondered if they'd ever recover my body and—

Just then I stopped spinning and my feet touched the wall again.

But the worst of all was when it was getting dark. They had hauled Pliny and the cameras up. It was dark and wet and lonely.

I never realized what a fine, friendly, human sort of face a Barotse native has until I saw one on top of the cliff and a black hand stretched over to pull me to safety.

HOW IT FEELS TO GO WHERE A LIVING MAN NEVER HAS

SET FOOT

BY PLINY W. HORNE

Camera Man, Universal Film Company

VICTORIA FALLS, South Africa.—When Bill Stowell got the idea of going down into the unexplored chasm of Victoria Falls to get the first motion pictures ever taken from the bottom I fell all over myself trying to be the first to make the descent.

But when the time came to go "over the top" of the precipice I got nervous. I had St. Vitus dance in my knees.

Over the brink I went. I was tied onto a narrow board fixed at the end of a wire rope. My feet kicking

How to use Twink

For Flesh, Pink, Peach, Old Rose, Yellow and Lavender: Make a lather as hot as your hands will bear. Wash garments as with Lux, only rinsing in cold water.

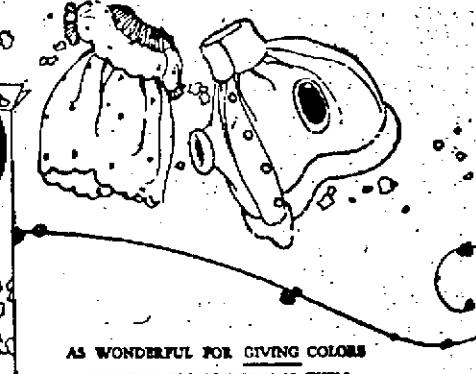

For the other colors: Use salt, and boiling water. Work the garments about in the boiling hot Twink suds for at least five minutes, then add cold water until just cool enough for your hands to bear. Squeeze suds through and rinse in cold water, until water runs clear.

The amounts to use are given in the directions that come with the Twink package.

THESE THREE AMERICAN BOXERS ARE ENJOYING THEMSELVES IN LONDON

Three boxers from the United States are having quite a good time in London at the expense of the Britishers. They are Johnny Griffiths of Akron, O., welterweight; Pal Moore, the Memphis banzai, and Kid Lewis, an Englishman who has been in America for years. Each won his first bout in London. They're fast friends and are not homesick over there. Lewis knows the town and he is the guide for his two friends.

friendly with the Judge. The mayor's wife said, in part: "You may certainly say that I think smoking cigarettes is far from immoral for women. I believe that any woman has a right to smoke if she wants to, and I think the Judge was right when he said that some of the most representative women throughout the world smoke cigarettes." Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, on the contrary, considered that smoking is a bad habit for either men or women. "And it is a little bit worse for women than for men," she said, "although I don't think it is exactly immoral. An invalid who is a non-smoker has a much better chance of recovery than a man who habitually smokes cigarettes or cigars. But smoking is a bad habit rather than immoral, and I see no grounds for divorce because a woman smokes."

A wife of a former governor said that while she didn't believe in smoking she did not consider it immoral. "Women ought to know better, even if the men don't," she said.

Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham, pastor of the Arlington Street church, said: "There is nothing immoral about wom-

AGREE SMOKING NOT IMMORAL FOR WOMEN

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Many Boston men and women were interested in the recent decision of Supreme Court Justice Mullan of New York regarding the smoking of cigarettes by women, and last evening gave their views on the matter.

Justice Mullan ruled that it is not immoral for women to smoke cigarettes. Some of the best women in the country and in the world smoke cigarettes, he said. A husband had attempted to show that since cigarettes had been found in his wife's dresser drawer she must be a "bad character" and he had grounds for a divorce.

"It wouldn't make any difference if she has a thousand packages of cigarettes there," said the Justice. "New York isn't Hickville out in the center of the farm country."

BRITISH BOOMERS

While a great number of highly educated Englishmen, journalists and others are going through this country in an effort to strengthen pro-British sentiment here, events are occurring in Britain that would seem to call for the enlightened guidance so freely offered by these intermeddling visitors to this country.

Some two months ago, several of these gentlemen addressed the convention of Middlesex county teachers, dealing with British rather than American topics and deplored the alleged tendency to entertain any prejudice against England "simply because she happened to be the mother country and the one against which the colonists fought." From this point, they proceeded to show, in their own way, that it was all a misunderstanding, that England never did the terrible things charged against her by some of the colonists and that our school histories do not tell the truth about the revolution. For this alleged reason, it is understood, that a number of these British propagandists, teachers and writers are engaged in rewriting our school histories so as to show that England's course towards the colonies was one of justice and benevolence, and that she, England, rather than the revolutionary fathers, is the founder of our American freedom.

PORT OF BOSTON

Few men have done more to develop the port of Boston than Col. William A. Gaston of the Shawmut Avenue bank. Mr. Gaston has repeatedly published pamphlets upon the development of the port of Boston and urging shippers to use that port of Boston in preference to New York. He is still pleading in the interest of developing the commerce of Boston, but apparently the results are not what might be expected. He holds that there have never been as great incentives for foreign trades as at the present time. War has stimulated our productive ability and increased manufacturing costs, making it imperative to employ every resource to the utmost. The surplus thus produced and available for foreign trade will help to reduce the unit cost and enable us to offer greater inducements to foreign buyers. Col. Gaston notes an increase in the trade of shipping firms between Boston and South America, the Baltic and the Adriatic. Col. Gaston also points out that Boston is more advantageously situated for Atlantic trade than any other American port, its routes being shorter not only to Europe but to Africa and South America.

That Mr. Ratcliffe is one of the propaganda corps, is proved by the fact that he had been expected back from England in time to address the teachers' convention referred to, but his ship reached port as the convention closed. His place was well filled, however.

If Mr. Ratcliffe thinks his counsel is desired or likely to be accepted by Americans, he is much mistaken. Judging from the state of affairs in England, he might serve his country better if he urged his government to stop shooting the people of Ireland under the pretense that the police, the constabulary or the government officials have been attacked when such is not the case.

The liberal party has been submerged in the old Tory regime and if party government is not quickly restored, the liberals will vote with the laborites and sweep the country.

These British advisers are over here to help us run our affairs according to British ideas. They will fail in their purpose. They cannot make the United States a province of the British empire. The British colonies, Canada, Australia and India are beginning to see the absurdity of remaining colonies of the empire and of being obliged to help Britain fight her battles of imperial aggrandizement. All these colonies see the light of independence gleaming in the distance as their ultimate destiny; and Englishmen, we presume, following their course in reference to the United States, will tell Independent Canada, Independent Australia and perhaps also Independent Ireland, that it was never the intention of England to hold them in subjection.

Already in Canada a movement for independence is being organized and it will receive enthusiastic assistance from various elements of the people of this republic. Hence, we feel that we are only stating a simple fact when we say that the horde of British propagandists, now in this country agitating for a reunion of the United States with England and her English speaking colonies, should go home and stop meddling in our local affairs, stop trying to blot out historical facts and stop trying to throttle the spirit of true Americanism.

WILSON NOT AN ISSUE

Senator Lodge and others who fear the candidacy of President Wilson for a third term, need have no such dread.

Those who are familiar with the president's condition realize that he is not physically fit to enter any more political fights. In all probability, if he lives till March 4 of next year, he will rejoice in the

MR. GOMPERS' WORD

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, is evidently viewing the radical menace in its true light at last. In a magazine article, he makes this statement relative to the present industrial situation:

"America will prosper this year if Americans do the work that waits to be done. If production rises to the level it should reach, if bickering and recrimination cease, nothing can prevent this from being a banner year. And why shouldn't Americans do their work? Will they let a few reactionaries among the leaders of business stop them by denying justice and imposing autocracy? Will they let self-appointed radical leaders, disciples of the Bolsheviks, tyrannical in their desire to impose the will of a minority on all the people, stop them? Americans are not fools. They will resist and resent tyranny or injustice. They will let no autocrats pick their pockets, whether those autocrats wear silk hats or red neckties."

It has been well known for some time past, that the radicals have been trying to use the labor unions as a means of promoting their revolutionary aims. Now that Mr. Gompers realizes what is going on, the conservative members of the unions will stand firmly against the Reds. Mr. Gompers, in the above utterance, sounds the keynote of the anti-radical campaign.

SHUTTING OFF CITY WATER

In future, the water department should not shut off the water in tenement property without first investigating whether any serious hardship may result to the tenants. The case that has just come to light on Davidson street, in which several families were without water for a period of ten days and, it is alleged, were obliged to drink filthy water from the river, should suffice to prevent a recurrence of any such blunder. It would be much better in such cases, for the water department to obtain a lien on the property for the amount of the bill. In the case just referred to, it appears that the property was being transferred from one owner to another or else held under some legal process. The fact that such a condition existed should not operate to the injury of the tenants or the detriment of public health. An outbreak of typhoid fever may be the result of the privation to which these Davidson street families were exposed. The incident is one from which the water department should learn a valuable lesson.

THE JITTERS

It seems that the people of Lowell cannot enjoy the luxury of electric car and jitney service on the same lines. They should be satisfied with reasonable car service at a moderate fare, and unless the jitneys are taken off the lines on which they compete with the cars, the trolley company will probably stop the service or else put up the fares. It seems that the jitneys should be confined to routes on which the cars don't run. Here they would be of actual service, but in competition with the cars, they are not necessary.

If the railway company promises lower fares, as we understand it does, in case the jitneys are taken off, it would seem to be good policy for the municipal council to shift the jitneys to other routes not covered by the electric cars—if they wish to continue in business.

STREET REPAIR GANGS

In his inaugural address, Mayor Thompson brought forward an important point in reference to the necessity of a street repair gang to be kept on duty regularly repairing minor breaks which, if left neglected, will soon become dangerous to passing vehicles.

The Sun has repeatedly suggested such repair gangs but somehow, they have never been kept permanently at work. The plan proposed by Mayor Thompson would add to the durability of many streets and save the city much expense even in damage claims.

The fight over the 18th amendment before the supreme court of the United States, promises to become historic. The decision sustaining the Volstead act was to be expected as being justified under the war time powers of congress.

Now that the barrooms are closed, the people want some attraction during their leisure hours. The public parks should offer facilities for exercise, recreation and even amusement. The municipal council will have to deal with these questions when fixing the department estimates. It might be well for the park department to prepare a plan for the development of the park system and see how far the municipal council can go toward providing the necessary funds to carry it through.

SEEN AND HEARD

It's all right to marry blindly if you can only be sure of staying blind.

Doctor Milesian Powder insists that raw oysters are healthy because he never heard 'em complain.

The salary of the city judge of Canandaigua, N. Y., has been cut in half. Absence of drinks and little to do is the reason.

If you should get an invite to a little "slipping party" that feeling within you that constitutes good citizenship would probably, on account of the larceny from the police station cellar, urge you to tip the police, but the chances are you wouldn't do anything of the kind and the other big chance is that you will not get the invitation.

Button Materials

For no other human purpose are so many different kinds of material used as for buttonmaking. Products of the tiled field, the forest, the stream and the sea—vegetable, animal and mineral are turned to this account. Buttons are common, middle-class and aristocratic—from the bone button of the laboring man to the jeweled one in the turban of an Indian rajah or the symbol of rank on a Chinese mandarin's cap. Among the by-products of the pearl button industry are poultry grit, fish food and "condition powder" for hogs and chickens. The waste shell is a constituent of artificial marble and florite, and an ingredient of jewelry polishes, soaps and cleansing powders.

Under Suspicion

"Say," said the irate visitor, "you had something about me in your paper that has gotta be corrected."

"If the item was wrong," the editor smoothly replied, "we shall cheerfully do as you request."

"I told one of your reporters I saw a beautiful goldfinch perching on a twig just outside the window of my bedroom."

"And when the item came out in the paper it read 'Goldfish.'"

"That isn't so bad."

"Oh, isn't it though? Well, ever since it was in the paper friends of mine have been hanging about our house thinking I have a private supply of something to drink in my cellar."

MILKING THE WHALE

Like as not the milkman of the future will run out to the ocean pasture, milk his herd of whales, and be all set for the morning delivery. For whale milk is promised by Capt. John B. Loop of Long Beach, Cal. He intimates that whale milk may be canned, or dried, or condensed, as cow milk is today, and transported to interior cities.

"Whale milk is richer and more palatable than cow's milk," the captain asserts. And he ought to know, for he has been whaling on the Pacific for years and years, during which time he often has brightened his breakfast coffee with whale milk. Of course it is, no easy job milking a whale. Neither is milking a cow unless you know how. Being a better seaman than dairy expert the captain is a trifle wobbly when it comes to planning the whale dairy. But we are assured it will be easy. Only two things are necessary. They are:

1—Capture the whale alive.

2—Make her stand still while you're milking.

If you are figuring on starting your own whale dairy probably you had better capture your whales while they're young, so you can tame them. And, of course, you needn't plan a dairy barn such as you have seen on the farm. The whale dairy will be largely water. With oceans for pasture, the milkman cannot complain of the high cost of feed. Neither will it be necessary for him to hire a man to carry water from the well to the milk can, for there'll be plenty of water all around him.

Family Revelle

Father dear, father dear, hark! the morning sun!

They've scared the Costo-a-living and they've got it in the run.

It gets up every morning and it runs to beat the Dutch;

Hurry, father, hurry, for they've scared it much too much.

Mother dear, mother dear, smell the pearly dew!

The clock is striking seven and the cook is striking, too!

The family stomach's crying out as it to wake the dead,

And mother dear, the cook-stove's getting jealous of the bed.

Daughter dear, daughter dear, let me break the news to you.

All the world is wide awake and putting on its shoes.

The sun is like a golden bug a-crawling up the sky;

Best get up and wash your face and hang it out to dry.

Sunny boy, sunny boy, you are in a trap,

Baited with a piece of cheese called "Another Son".

Your skull is getting bony and your lips are turning red;

Look out! the pillows rooting in and growing to your head.

Baby dear, baby dear, close your eyes again!

Why you're up at four o'clock instead of half past ten?

Anybody else would love to swap a chance with you,

But you must wake the sun up, like a rock-a-doodle-do!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Prohibition has brought along with it all sorts of experiences, some sad and some really funny. The headlines of the past few weeks have furnished plenty of examples of the sad cases, but I heard a really funny one the other day about the aridness which has enveloped the country. It seems that a Lowell woman and her husband were traveling in Canada and friend-husband had been able to get hold of a fairly large quantity of good "cheek."

It was nicely packed in a suit-case amidst an abundance of clothing and toilet articles and the Lowell couple started for this city. When they boarded the train they were positive that their precious cargo was in the suitcase and their only worry was whether it would be disturbed before they arrived home. As the journey progressed the husband thought he would enjoy a smoke, so left his wife to go to the smoking car. He took the suit-case

REVENUE AGENTS PLAN ROUND-UP

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Physicians, dentists and veterinarians who have not fled their narcotics return with the Internal revenue office are to be rounded up within the next few weeks by revenue agents, according to plans announced today by Acting Collector Andrew J. Casey who has found 2,000 such delinquents on records filed at the office.

Returns of manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers, and practitioners handling narcotics must be made to this office by June 30 of each year. We have about 10,500 registrants under the different classes and at the close of the fiscal year last June there were 2,000 who had not filed their returns. Letters were sent to these delinquents, most of whom were practitioners, but few replied to them. The yearly tax is only $3, and the penalty imposed for failure to file on time is 25 percent of that amount.

"The law provides, however," continued Mr. Casey, "that persons who violate the narcotic law may be punished by a fine of not more than $2000 or by imprisonment of not more than five years. Failure to file a return is considered a violation of the law and will not be condoned even if the rever is small. We have tried to collect this tax in the usual manner, but the failure of these delinquents to respond makes it necessary for us to resort to other methods."

LOCAL POLICE ACTIVE

Although several so-called radicals have already been rounded up by the Lowell police, as its contribution to the nation-wide drive against the "reds," the department is still combing the city in search of radical and communist propaganda. Two houses in Belvidere were searched early in the week but without results.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Paracet (double strength), and add to it 1/2 cup of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful for three or four days.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises.

Clogged nostrils should open, breathing becoming easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take.

Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial. Adv.

HEALTH SHIP FOR TOTS TO HIT COST OF MILK

New York Children Benefit in Unique "Live Longer" Campaign

(N.E.A. Special to The Sun)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—In congested New York, where air is hardly more plentiful than money, the latest project in the "Live Longer" campaign consists largely of giving from 100 to 200 children eight hours of fresh air a day on board an abandoned ferry boat fitted up as a "Preventorium."

"Camp Manhattan" is the name given to the boat which is under the direct charge of New York City Bureau for Preventable Diseases. From the results of examinations made by city physicians, children showing symptoms of preventable diseases, in their early stages, are selected and enrolled as "passengers" on the good ship, "Camp Manhattan."

They go to the ship every day just as they would go to school, and are thus not separated from their parents, although they get the full benefit of medical treatment and outdoor life.

They are fed, if suffering from malnutrition, with the proper food, compelled to join in the rest periods (sleep in the open air, wrapped warmly in steamer blankets) and their progress watched carefully by Nurse Selina Weigel, the skipper of the boat.

Real results have already been accomplished.

Omaha Plans Municipal Move—Fire Stations as Milk Depots

(N.E.A. Special to The Sun)
OMAHA, Jan. 7.—The milk crisis, which is being recognized as an acute problem in many American cities, is to be solved in Omaha through municipal action.

H. B. Howell, superintendent of the board of water commissioners, who battled many years to take the city's water supply out of the hands of private exploiters, believes that milk is no less a public necessity than water.

Fire Stations as Depots

Omaha fire stations are to be used as milk depots and the cost of milk to the housewife cut in two. That is, unless means can be found to upset the plans of Howell, the Mid-West Milk Producers' Co-operative Association and the earnest desire of 23 engine house crews to give still further service to the city.

"The farmer gets 6 cents a quart for milk delivered to the distributor in Omaha," Mr. Howell explained. "After his trucking bills are paid, he has a net receipt of about 5 cents a quart."

"Milk costs the consumer 15 cents a quart over the grocery counter and presently will cost 18."

Farmers Give Up Herds

"The cost of distribution, plus the middleman's profit, is three times the cost of production."

"According to the figures of the State Agricultural college, milk costs the farmer 6.7 cents to produce. For that reason, many farmers are getting rid of their dairy herds. That means a still further complication of the milk situation."

"According to our plan, farmers will receive 8 cents a quart for milk and housewives will pay 10."

"The MMK Producers association will install refrigerators in the fire stations and keep them iced."

Purchase a Building

"The association has purchased a building near the municipal ice plant and the Metropolitan water district will supply steam and refrigeration for the operation of a condensing plant to preserve surplus milk, which will

WAS SUICIDE THROUGH FEAR

Is the Inspiration of Fear, Leading to Suicide, a Crime?

Ex-convict Is Held For "Mental Murder" in Odd Case

BY JAMES F. MCKENNA,
N.E.A. Evansville Correspondent

MORGANFIELD, Ky., Jan. 7.—If one man, by words alone, can instill in the mind of another a fear which will drive his victim to suicide, is that man guilty of murder?

This question has arisen from the self-destruction, on Dec. 7, of Robert S. Morehead, 54, a farmer, in the bottom lands along the Ohio river. In Union county.

The man accused of this "mental murder" admits he is an ex-convict. He is almost 60 years old and is known as Erastus Millstead. Specifically, he was charged, after the death of Morehead, with being an "accessory before the fact."

Will Ask for Mitit
County Attorney Earl Fowler, in charge of the prosecution, has said that, in the event of conviction, the maximum penalty—death—would be asked.

Morehead slashed his throat with a razor after he had promised his wife, Mary Morehead, that he would not carry out his threats to kill himself.

He had told his wife several nights before the end that he was "in a trap," insisted that he was innocent, but probably could not prove it.

Millstead was a stranger here. He was known to have had several conversations with Morehead. It was after these conversations, relatives said, that Morehead showed signs of great mental depression and threatened violence to himself.

Had Shaved Mustache

Following Morehead's death, Millstead was arrested by a sheriff's posse in the cabin of "Son" Briscoe, a negro. He had shaved off his mustache and exchanged his cap for a sou'-wester.

"Millstead appeared at the Morehead home the first time on Dec. 3," says County Attorney Fowler. "It was just dusk. He called out from the road and asked if he could stay over night. Morehead replied that he could."

"When they went into the house, Morehead, surprised, said to his unknown guest: 'Why, you're Tom Logan, ain't you?'

Millstead denied that he was Logan. A Tom Logan worked for Morehead a short time several years ago. If he had trouble with Morehead it is not known.

Claimed to Be Officer

"Millstead went to the R. L. Oglesby farm, a mile away, and made arrangements to board there. He said he was an officer and was getting evidence on someone."

"Millstead and Morehead held several conversations, but it was not until after one on the evening of Dec. 5 that Morehead showed signs of worry."

"When Millstead left the home of Oglesby he said he was sorry that he would have to arrest Morehead and send him to prison. He did not, however, attempt to serve any papers on Morehead."

The prosecution contends that it was Millstead's impersonation of an officer which caused Morehead to choose death rather than possible imprisonment and disgrace.

Set of Tools Concerned

It took two weeks to bring to light the fact that a set of logging tools left at Morehead's home by three men were at the bottom of the trouble.

Morehead, it appears now, had been told by someone that he would be arrested for the theft of the tools and that the men who left them would swear to Morehead's guilt.

Millstead, it is believed, conveyed to Morehead the threat direct. A great deal of interest centers on the identity of the original owner of the tools.

GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Took But Ten Minutes To Reach Verdict

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—One of the swiftest murder trials in New York state ended late yesterday when a jury in Brooklyn, after ten minutes deliberation, found Frank J. Next Friday he will be sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

MORE OF SISTER MARY'S RECIPES

In the kitchen of her own home Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a Catholic university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

In nearly every family there is one member who objects so seriously to onions that the cook gives up in despair and stops trying to serve them.

If the vegetable is cooked in an uncovered pan the odor is not so strong as when lightly covered. And if a dead onion is burned in the living room while the onions are being cooked in the kitchen there will be absolutely no unpleasant fumes.

Onions are such an excellent food that it pays to make quite an effort to serve them to those in the family who will eat them.

As a bulky and ballast food they have no equal this time of year. They contain both sulphur and phosphorus minerals which give tone to the blood.

Aside from their food value they are comparatively cheap—sufficient reason in itself for using them often.

Meals For Tomorrow

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, waffles and syrup, coffee.

Luncheon—Stuffed eggs on toast, pickles, nut and date pudding, tea.

Dinner—Casserole of rice and meat, tomato sauce, buttered beets, endive with French dressing, brown bread and butter, apple pie, coffee.

My Own Recipes

The rice in the meal furnishes enough starch for the meat so it is not necessary to serve potatoes. In substituting rice for potatoes it is well to remember that the rice is lacking in minerals and supply other vegetables.

STUFFED EGGS ON TOAST

4 eggs.

1 cup finely chopped nuts.

2 tablespoons breadcrumbs.

Milk.

Salt and pepper.

Hard boil eggs. Shell and cut in half lengthwise. Mix egg yolks, bread-crumbs and nuts with enough milk to make a smooth moist mixture. Fill the egg halves with the mixture. Toast quarter-inch slices of bread on one side. On the browned side arrange two halves and put in a hot oven for 10 minutes. The bread will toast on the under side while the stuffing is browning on top. If one wants the toast rather moist, a cup of thin white sauce may be poured over the dish after it is taken from the oven.

BROWN BREAD

3 cups graham flour

1 cup white flour.

1 teaspoonful salt

1 cup New Orleans molasses

2 cups buttermilk or sour milk

1 teaspoonful soda.

Mix flour and salt. Add molasses and 1/2 cup milk. Dissolve soda in water, add sugar, flour, baking powder and salt mixed. Beat well. Add nuts and dates cut in small pieces. Turn into a pan and bake 20 minutes in a slow oven. Serve with whipped cream.

NUT AND DATE PUDDING

1 egg

1/2 cup granulated sugar

1 tablespoon flour.

1 teaspoon baking powder

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/2 cup English walnuts

1/2 cup dates

Beat egg with 1 tablespoon cold water.

Add sugar, flour, baking powder and salt mixed. Beat well. Add nuts and dates cut in small pieces. Turn into a pan and bake 20 minutes in a slow oven. Serve with whipped cream.

RUSSIAN SINGER TO BE DEPORTED

NUISANCE IN BILLERICA

According to a report issued by the Billerica fire department there were 25 alarms in the town during the past year, which were as follows:

Twenty-two alarms for building fires, four for automobiles, 39 for grass or brush fires, three were false, one for the underwriters' inspection, four were out-of-town calls and twice the department was called out to search for lost persons. The total value of property at risk in the fires, exclusive of brush or wood fires, was $55,125, and the total loss was $839.67 or 16 per cent.

More than 4,000,000 pins are destroyed daily.

One way to reduce carbon trouble

Heavy carbon deposits in the combustion chamber and on piston heads cause lots of engine trouble ranging from pre-ignition of the fuel charge to the destruction of the lubricating oil. This can be avoided. With uniform, high grade gasoline that possesses even vaporizing and ignition qualities, carburetion can be so perfectly regulated that the fuel charge is burned up completely, leaving a minimum of carbon deposit.

SONONY Motor Gasoline meets every motor fuel requirement. It is carefully refined to a definite standard of high quality. It is as uniform as modern science can make it. Its carburetion and ignition qualities assure dependable power under all weather conditions. Standardize on SONONY for motoring economy and satisfaction.

TROLLEYS AND JITTERY

Mayor Kay of Fall River,
Says Street Railways Are Absolutely Essential

That Mayor James H. Kay of Fall River believes that street railways are an absolute necessity is contained in the following statement appearing in his inaugural address:

Street railways are absolutely essential to the well being and convenience of any community and proper service can not be rendered at a fair charge if we permit the diversion of legitimate street railway patronage to the so-called Jittery lines.

These lines are of a temporary character at best and are not subject to the restrictions and obligations imposed by law upon the street railways. Furthermore, they can never be depended upon to give the necessary service when such service is most required. An earnest attempt is being made by the street railway officials to give better service at a lower cost and in this effort the management should have the hearty support of not only the government but all who desire to see justice done.

It is our duty to offer such constructive criticism as we may to help bring about a solution of the difficulties under which the street railways are operated and if mutual good will can be established between the public and street railways, it will assist materially in bringing about the desired results.

CARD OF THANKS
To my kind friends and relatives, I take this opportunity of again thanking you for the many acts of kindness and words of sympathy extended to me in the loss of my husband. Also for the beautiful floral offerings.
MRS. EMMA A. CROY.

FUNERALS

CHEY—The funeral services of William F. Croy were held at the funeral parlors of Hiram C. Brown yesterday afternoon. Rev. John Gould, pastor of the First Pentecostal Church officiated. The floral tributes were very beautiful. The bearers were Martin Davis, George Huston, John Curtis, Mr. Mills, Albert Luederberg and Joseph Regnier. Burial was in the family lot in Westlawn cemetery, where Rev. John Gould read the committal prayers. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Francis Regnier, under the direction of Undertaker Hiram C. Brown.

McKENNA—The funeral of Mrs. Anna McHenry took place this morning from her home, 32 Fort Hill avenue, at 9:30 o'clock. At the Immaculate Conception church at 10 o'clock, a solemn high mass was sung by Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. James McCarron, O.M.I. as deacon and Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I. as sub-deacon. The choir sang the "Te Deum" and the offering the "Pie Jesu" was sung by Miss Hugh Walker. At the close of the mass "O Muriatum Passions" was rendered by Miss Isabel McKenna, and at the conclusion of the service the choir sang the "De Profundis." Mr. Charles Smith presided over the soloists. Miss Walker presided at the organ. The bearers were Patrick McGovern of Andover, George McGovern, Fred McNally, Andrew J. Donohue and George Duff. There was a profusion of floral offerings. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Owen P. McQuaid read the committal prayers. Friends were present from Detroit, Mich., Cambridge, Andover, Newburyport, Lawrence and Medford. The funeral arrangements were under the direction of Undertaker Leo B. McKenna.

BEAUMUR—The funeral of Joseph Beaumur took place last evening from the home of his brother in Alma st. The body was placed aboard the 9:15 o'clock train for St. Emeric de l'Enclos, Que., where burial will take place. Local funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Joseph Albert.

DEATHS

PORTER—Benjamin C. Porter, infant son of Clarence and Abbie (Fulmer) Porter, died last evening at the home of his parents, 69 High street. The body was taken to the rooms of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

GINIVAN—Mrs. Margaret Ginivan, wife of John Ginivan, died early this morning at St. John's hospital, aged 60 years. Deceased was an esteemed and devout attendant of St. Patrick's church and was a member of the Ladies' auxiliary, 101st Division, A.E.F. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, John J., Robert A., Martin H., Thomas, Frances, and William Ginivan, and one daughter, Miss Mary M. Ginivan. The body was taken to Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks to our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness, floral and spiritual offerings which helped lighten the burden in our recent sorrow. To one and all we are deeply grateful.

made in his behalf by the county, for he has taken "French leave" of the institution on various occasions.

Michael allowed that yesterday was a good day for another brief trip to the City of Spindles, and decamped forthwith.

As usual, Iruant school officials spoiled his plans for an extended leave and this morning brought him into Capt. Brosnan's office at police headquarters for a little quizzing before accompanying him "home."

Michael never was an over-communicative lad, which may or may not have been the cause of Capt. Brosnan leaving him alone in the office for a moment.

Anyway, while friend captain was away, Michael decided to get a souvenir to take back to his playmates at the Iruant school, and began an investigating tour.

He found Sergi, Bigelow's revolver, fully loaded, in the captain's desk, and decided that here at last was a trophy well worth his while.

So he strapped it under his clothing, did Michael, and when the captain returned to wind up the investigation proceedings, Michael was still sitting in his chair, as mock and demure as one could wish.

Something went wrong when Michael arrived at the school, however, for the officials discovered his arsenal and promptly confiscated it, much to Michael's regret.

Can't blame Michael for being a bit peevish at the loss of his treasure, for it's a real nice "gat." It was made by a man named Colt, is of 32 calibre, and entirely up-to-date.

Only thing lacking is a contrivance to prevent it being stolen, and this will be attended to in the near future.

gets her drinking water from a neighbor, but she does not know the minute her supply will be cut off. She does not do any washing but sends her clothes to the laundry. "It is indeed a very serious matter to be without water in the house," she said, "and I think it is mean to shut off our supply without even notifying us. The water was shut off a week last Monday. I saw the men from the water department closing the valve in the street, but I did not realize what they were doing until noon, when I began to prepare dinner. The conditions in this block are awful, for the toilets are either frozen or stuffed up and the stench in some of the flats is something terrible."

At No. 53 the tenement is occupied by Lizette Roche, an elderly woman, who is employed in the mill all day. At No. 55 there are two tenements, one occupied by Patrick Stack and his sister and by Alice McCann. They also get their supply of water from neighbors.

The lower tenement at No. 1 Wall street is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Konowak and their four children, the eldest of whom is 14 and the youngest, 7 weeks. These people have been occupying this flat for the past seven weeks and they claim their rent receipts bear the signature of N. Cazanos. The flat over them is occupied by John Pilot and his daughter, who is 13 years of age. The father works and the girl attends school.

At No. 3 Wall street the street tenement is unoccupied, while that on the second story is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Adam Swistak and their children. The eldest child of the family is 14 years of age, while the baby is one year old. They get their drinking water from one of the neighbors on the street, while they get their supply of water for washing purposes in the Concord river. As the reporter entered the home this morning Mrs. Swistak and her daughter, Catherine, aged 11 years, were preparing to go to the river for water. "It is a hard job," said little Catherine, who speaks English very well, "for we have to break the ice, a very dangerous job. We have to make several trips in order to get enough water to wash the clothes, but we have to keep clean and we cannot expect that other landlords will let us take all the water we want free of charge. We were never notified that the water was to be shut off.

DELANEY FOR CHAIRMAN

School Board For 1920 Organizes—Two New Members Installed

Thomas B. Delaney was elected chairman of the school committee for 1920 this afternoon when that body met for organization for the present year in the school committee chamber at city hall shortly after 2 o'clock.

Mr. Delaney received three votes for the office, Julian B. Keyes one, and Gardner W. Pearson one.

The two new members of the 1920 committee, Mr. Delaney and James E. Markham, were installed in office with simple ceremonies. It was 2:15 when the 1920 committee filed into the chamber with Hugh J. Molloy, secretary, and William P. McCarthy, assistant city clerk. They took their positions in alphabetical order and Mr. McCarthy asked Messrs. Delaney and Markham to rise to take the oath of office. When this had been administered Mr. Molloy announced that the first business to come before the committee was the choice of a chairman and it was moved that the members proceed to the election of that official. The balloting resulted as follows:

Mr. Crowley—Thomas B. Delaney.

Mr. Delaney—Thomas B. Delaney.

Mr. Keyes—Gardner W. Pearson.

Mr. Markham—Thomas B. Delaney.

Mr. Pearson—Julian B. Keyes.

Mr. Delaney was declared elected and he was escorted to the chairman's seat by Mr. Crowley and Mr. Keyes.

The new chairman in a few brief remarks told the members of the committee that he would try to discharge the duties of the chairmanship faithfully and impartially and said he knew that he would receive the cooperation of the members.

He expressed the opinion that the chief function of the school committee was to provide the best possible schools for the city's children. He hoped to be chairman of the whole committee all times, he added.

It was moved by Mr. Markham and seconded by Mr. Crowley that the chairman appoint a committee to draw up rules to govern the actions of the committee in 1920.

Mr. Pearson wanted to know if there were any rules in existence at the present time and upon being told that there were, he suggested that the committee abide by those rules until new ones were voted upon. The suggestion was accepted and Chairman Delaney appointed Messrs. Markham and Crowley and himself as the committee to draw up the new rules.

PRICES TO STAY UP, MEEKER PREDICTS

BY HARRY B. HUNT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 6.—Howell Pigg, food administrator, working under Attorney General Palmer to reduce the cost of living through the Lever anti-profitering act, says he expects full cost of living to be reduced fully 25 per cent. by June 1.

Royal Meeker, United States commissioner of labor statistics, whose job it is to study price levels, trends and influences, says high prices are here for a long stay, that Pigg could put all the profiteers in jail without affecting price levels appreciably, and that until the basic causes for high prices—in which he does not include profitering—are removed, we will have the high cost of living with us.

Insurance Negligible

"The profiteer is being blamed on all hands for the increase in prices,"

EVERETT TRUE

Meeker said today, in discussing the price outlook for 1920.

"Undoubtedly profitering of a most reprehensible sort has existed and does exist today. But the profiteer is a result of ever-increasing prices rather than the cause thereof. His influence in boosting prices is negligible."

"Before attempting to answer the query when, if ever, prices are to fall, it would be well to consider the causes that have brought about their remarkable rise since 1915. These may be summarized as follows:

"(1) By far the most important cause is the enormous additions to the circulating medium, money and its substitutes.

"(2) Decrease in the actual physical quantities of goods produced and exchanged.

"(3) Manufacture for and purchase by the governments of the world for war and other purposes.

"(4) Changes in the demands for lightweight wool or a wool and cotton mixture is best. Stockings for winter should be long and warm. The custom of permitting young children to wear socks in freezing weather is against all rules of health.

Seasdale Skins

Nightwear for summer should be thin and soft, with round neck and loose sleeves; for winter it may be of heavier material.

Underwear and nightclothes should be changed at least once, and stockings at least twice, weekly.

It is very important to get the right sort of shoe, for shoes which do not conform to the shape of the foot are apt to result in deformities. Shoes should be made on the straight last, with a broad toe and flat heel, and should be long enough and wide enough. Overshoes should be provided for wet and snowy weather.

Washable Clothing

A young child's suits or dresses should be of washable material for winter and summer, and for mother's sake as well as the child's comfort, it is best to have them made simply so that they can be easily laundered. Even in winter the clothing worn in the house should be light in weight. Outdoor clothing should suit the weather. A heavy coat, a cap that will come down over the ears, and mittens, and when necessary, leggings, should be provided for winter.

FIRE LOSS WILL REACH $50,000

Building in Tanner Street, Owned by David Ziskind, Gutted Last Night

Stock of Lowell Paper Co.
Totally Destroyed—Two Alarms Sounded

Fire early last evening in the large storage building at 85 Tanner street, leased by Lebovitz & Kotzen, proprietors of the Lowell Paper Stock Co., from David Ziskind, necessitated the sounding of two alarms and resulted in a property and stock loss of approximately $50,000. Tons of loose and baled paper waste valued between $25,000 and $30,000 is a total loss, while the building, which has a value of $20,000 and is of fairly recent construction, was at least three-fourths destroyed. Insurance will cover most of the loss.

Two firemen, James Gray of Engine 1 and William Christy of the Protective company were cut by flying glass and were taken to St. John's hospital for treatment.

The fire, which burned for more than four hours, seemingly got its start on the first floor in the midst of tightly packed bales of paper, but no cause has been assigned. When discovered shortly after 6 o'clock, smoke was pouring from windows on all sides of the building and the stock in the centre was ablaze.

The alarm from Box 43 at the Scanlon Boiler works was sent in at 6.11. Because of the dangerous aspect of the fire on his arrival and the rather close proximity of other buildings, 16 men and eight women in the busi-

Chief Sagners ordered a second alarm at 6.30 o'clock.

Despite rapid work in getting water into the building the fire worked up to the second floor, where 100 bales of paper, ready for shipment, were stored. The second floor burned out and fell through shortly after 7 o'clock and from then on it was simply a case of flooding the structure and drowning out all signs of fire.

Because the building was of modern construction the roof and side walls withstood the flames fairly well. The building proper was built above five years ago, but an addition of one story, 50 by 70 feet, was finished only last year.

The Lowell Paper Stock Co. employed 16 men and eight women in the business and all left the plant at 5.30 o'clock. At that time there was no sign of fire, said Mr. Kotzen, the junior partner. The office in the rear end of the building was not reached by the flames, but was flooded with water. The only heat in the building came from several stoves. The one on the second floor was not lighted, however, and there was none on the first floor in the part which burned the fiercest. A stove in the office was lighted, but as that part was not burned, the fire could not have obtained a start there.

Although the blaze had been reduced to smoke at 8 o'clock the all-out signal was not sounded until 10.23. The fire was one of the most stubborn the department has been called upon to fight for some time and was attended by all the disagreeable features possible with the exception of climate conditions, which were fairly comfortable. The building itself is in an out-of-the-way place and while it has open space on practically all four sides the fire burned almost wholly within the structure, necessitating close range work.

The first floor was filled to capacity with tightly bound bales of paper and rags and as the fire ate its way into the mass it threw off clouds of dense smoke. The second floor was different, however, for here the bales were not so numerous and draughts through the open spaces fanned the sparks into flame and soon turned the floor into a furnace. Showers of sparks drifted across Tanner street, but seemed to burn themselves out before dropping on nearby buildings or the ground.

Low pressure handicapped the firemen at first, but it grew stronger as the fire progressed. Although there are large groups of buildings in rather close proximity, none except a long, low shed on the north side of the building, was threatened. This, the property of Boutwell Bros., was used for the storage of iron, and was separated from the Ziskind building by a four-foot space. The flames did not shoot out of the first story windows to any great extent, however, and the firemen were able to keep the fire from jumping the narrow alley.

Several lines of hose were taken to the roof of the shed and water shot from them did telling work in saturating the fire on the second floor. Water was thrown into the building from every available spot; over ladders on the Tanner street side and from the yard to the south and with the arrival of the second alarm apparatus Chief Saunders ordered practically every available line laid. Some of the hydrants used were situated several hundred yards from the building, which only took valuable time in laying, but meant a long jump after the water was turned on.

Only spasmodically did the blaze approach the spectacular. It was not discernible for any great distance and even an approach from Cambridge street did not disclose any fire until the yard of the company was reached. As the blaze worked into the second floor and communicated to the stock stored there lurid flames shot out of the north windows and forced the firemen on the shed roof to give ground for a moment. Water soon turned the flame into a heavy pall of smoke, however, so thick as to shut out the entire sight of the building. Periodically the flames broke out afresh in another window and the snuffing out process was repeated.

The combination of scorching flame followed by dense smoke as the water struck the baled waste was a tough one to combat, but it was the consensus of opinion among bystanders that the firemen did their work well in containing the fire to the interior of the building. Although the paper blurred quickly, it smudged out quite as soon with the impact of water.

Comparatively few people were attracted to the fire and well spread out police lines kept the crowd from under the heels of the firemen. Tanner street for several hundred yards, was congested with apparatus and the cobblestones were criss-crossed with colling pipe lines which seemed to have no beginning or end.

The fire showed conclusively that the Lowell department needs several high-powered searchlights, for with no flames breaking through the walls or roof of the area immediately adjacent to the building was as black as a pocket and once a slipping ladder on the Tanner street end, came within an ace of crashing down upon firemen beneath in the darkness nobody saw the danger.

Commissioner John F. Salmon was at the fire soon after the sounding of the second alarm and got his first real baptism as the municipal head of the fire and water department. He did not leave until he had taken in the situation from all sides, watched the firemen at work and the blaze had died down to a volume of smoke.

O.M.I. CADETS' WELCOME HOME

Rousing Reception and Banquet in Y.M.C.L. Hall Last Evening

Veterans Congratulated For Their Honorable Part in the World War

Nearly every branch of service of the allied forces was represented at the welcome home reception and banquet which the O.M.I. Cadets gave their world war veterans last evening in Y.M.C.L. hall in Stackpole street, and although the 200 veterans present were but a fraction of the total man-power that the cadets gave in the great conflict, they were sufficiently representative to make the affair a splendid success and a bright, happy chapter in cadet annals.

Despite the earnest efforts of the committee in charge, it would have been an impossibility for it to bring together all the members and former members of the Cadets who served in the world war, for their number is legion. The Cadets have been organized since 1904, and the alumni run into the thousands. But as aforesaid, last evening's representation was adequately typical of the spirit of the veterans who were absent.

An excellent turkey dinner served by Cadet Martin Lydon, a program of good speech-making and a series of entertainment features of the usual cadet standard were the high lights of the evening's affair.

The 150 veterans were given positions of honor as the dinner began. Seated with them were the present officers of the cadets in uniform together with past officers: Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual director of the organization; Mayor Perry D. Thompson and several other members of the municipal council. The hall was prettily decorated with pink and light green and the national colors.

Following the banquet, Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., arose and in a simple, yet impressive manner, told of the war record of the cadets. He referred touchingly to the many who failed to return. He made a plea for good citizenship on the part of the cadets and said that the training they had received in the organization would help them to become Americans of the highest type. In conclusion, he read a letter from George Busby, a former major of the cadets, who is now in Russia with the United States forces, fighting the Bolsheviks.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was given a hearty greeting when he was introduced and after referring humorously to boyhood experiences of Rev. Fr. Sullivan and himself, he made mention of the value of cadet training and discipline in the upbuilding of a community and congratulated the veterans on the honorable part they had played in the world war.

Bernard McArdle, former military instructor, and Mathew McCann, athletic instructor, spoke in a happy vein and expressed their pleasure at being among the "boys" again.

Commissioner John F. Salmon received a great ovation as he rose. He prefaced his talk with a series of humorous experiences he had encountered

Among those seated at the head table were Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I.; Col. Francis Ralls; Francis Gargan, military instructor; Capt. Gerald Cahill of the U. S. Artillery Co.; Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Donnelly and Salmon; Rev. James J. Stanton, O.M.I.; Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., pastor of the Immaculate Conception church; Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I.; Rev. James B. McCarron, O.M.I.; Francis Haggerly, Russell Harrington, William Conway, Bernard McArdle, Daniel T. Sullivan, Capt. Winfield C. MacBrayne and Lieut. Col. Alfred Burns.

The committee in charge of the affair included: Francis J. Gargan, chairman; Col. Francis J. Ralls, Lieut. Col. Alfred Burns, Samuel J. O'Neill, Robert Leith and the commissioned officers of the regiment.

director whom he characterized as "the greatest cadet of them all." Later in the evening Lieut. Bill favored with a song.

Then came solos by Commissioner James E. Donnelly, accompanied by Paul Angelo, and then Mr. Angelo entertained with a piano solo. A series of lively boxing bouts followed with the Cronin brothers, "Tip" Quinn, Jack Carroll, "Kid" Corrigan, Thomas McCann, Douglas Flaherty and "Red" Murphy as the exponents of the manly art. Martin Flaherty and Mathew McCann were the "official" Sons by John O'Brien, accompanied by Francis Ralls, were next and the final bout brought Martin Flaherty, Sr., and Martin Flaherty, Jr., into the ring in a lively spar.

Among those seated at the head table were Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I.; Col. Francis Ralls; Francis Gargan, military instructor; Capt. Gerald Cahill of the U. S. Artillery Co.; Mayor Thompson and Commissioners Donnelly and Salmon; Rev. James J. Stanton, O.M.I.; Rev. Lawrence P. Tighe, O.M.I., pastor of the Immaculate Conception church; Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I.; Rev. James B. McCarron, O.M.I.; Francis Haggerly, Russell Harrington, William Conway, Bernard McArdle, Daniel T. Sullivan, Capt. Winfield C. MacBrayne and Lieut. Col. Alfred Burns.

The committee in charge of the affair included: Francis J. Gargan, chairman; Col. Francis J. Ralls, Lieut. Col. Alfred Burns, Samuel J. O'Neill, Robert Leith and the commissioned officers of the regiment.

That Lowell's census takers are being well received by the public in the majority of instances is the report received by U. P. Cronin, chief inspector for the local district. Mr. Cronin asks all enumerators to submit their final reports to him before turning in their portfolios.

The Oaklands Whist club will conduct a party in Knights of Columbus hall in the Associate building next Friday evening. The proceeds of the affair will go to furnish a room at St. John's hospital. The ladies in charge are Mrs. Fred Billingsley and Mrs. Annie T. McSorley.

Molly Vanoun chapter, D.A.R., held a delightfully informal social and tea yesterday afternoon at the Spaulding house, given by the board of managers, consisting of the following: Mrs. Charles E. Howe, regent; Mrs. C. C. Baron, vice regent; Miss Julia T. Pevey, treasurer; Mrs. E. T. Rowell, Mrs. George Blackwell, Mrs. Otis Humphrey, Miss Florence Young, Mrs. Mary G. Morrison, Mrs. Rufus Corleay, Mrs. Abby Morrison and Mrs. E. M. Tucke. Tea was served by Mrs. L. E. Pullen, Mrs. C. B. Abbott and Mrs. W. M. Sherrell.

Overseas and becoming more serious, paid a high tribute to the fighting qualities of the cadets. Capt. Winfield C. MacBrayne, in a brief address, pointed out the need of continuing the excellent training which the cadets were receiving.

Lieut. Joseph M. Reilly, the dean of the cadet commissioned officers, was next called upon. He told of Rev. Fr. Sullivan's love for the cadets and his untiring efforts in their behalf; he said that the love of "his boys" for him was just as great. On behalf of all the cadets he thanked Rev. Fr. Sullivan and the committee in charge for the opportunity of being present and led in three rousing cheers for the spiritual

Total of 20 Americans Killed in Tampico District Since April 7, 1917

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Gabriele Porter, an American citizen in the employ of Penn-Mex Co., was shot and killed by a Mexican federal army officer at Tuxpan, on Dec. 21, according to advices received by the state department today from the American consul at Tampico.

The consul immediately was ordered to report further information. This makes a total of 20 Americans killed in the Tampico district by Mexicans since April 7, 1917. Eighteen were employees of American oil companies.

The Mexican authorities first reported that Porter had been accidentally shot by a companion in a party returning from a dance. Investigation by the Penn-Mex officials and the American consul was said to have developed, however, that he was shot by an army officer. Porter's home was in Fullerton, Cal.

CALLS ON MEXICO TO PUNISH MURDERERS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The Mexican government has been called upon by the state department to use every means possible to apprehend and punish the murderers of F. J. Roney and Earl Bowles, American oil men in the Tampico fields.

The despatch to the state department reporting the murders said the two men were killed near Port Lobos and that their bodies were discovered Jan. 6. They were employees of the International Petroleum Co. and were supposed to have had the company's payroll.

THOUSANDS OF LIVES LOST

—Many Other Victims of Earthquake

Latest Reports Tell of Enormous Damage in State of Vera Cruz

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 7.—Hundreds, possibly thousands, of lives, were lost as a result of the earthquake which shook the state of Vera Cruz Saturday night. So widespread was the damage done and so wild are some of the sections that suffered, that it is probable the number of casualties will never be known.

Private despatches received here from Vera Cruz and Jalapa state that 1000 persons lost their lives at Couztland. Thirty lives were lost at Teocelo, where three churches and 40 houses were destroyed.

Volcanic eruptions have occurred at Cotopaxi, from which point to the volcano of Orizaba the shock seemed to center. Flood waters pouring down the Pescados river have inundated Ihuacan, Mabatuxita, and Tlapana, while many ranches are under water. Twenty bodies have been recovered from the Pescados at Jalcomulco and Apazapan.

There were three slight shocks yesterday, according to the Astronomical observatory at Taclobaya, a suburb of Mexico City. They were feeble and could be detected only by instruments.

MILLS FORCED TO CLOSE

Search Headquarters at Dublin and Offices of Irish Parliament

DUBLIN, Jan. 7.—Sinn Fein headquarters in this city were raided this morning by a big force of police and soldiers. The raiders also entered the offices of the Irish parliament and those of the New Ireland Assurance society.

Eighty soldiers armed with rifles with fixed bayonets carried out the raid on the Assurance society's offices. The men, wearing trench helmets, came up in motor lorries to the office, where it is reported one arrest was made. Michael Staines, Sinn Fein member of parliament, is the chairman of the company.

Large crowds assembled and watched the proceedings in front of the society offices. There was a small gathering before the Sinn Fein headquarters, where 50 soldiers, accompanied by police, conducted the search.

Warrant For Arrest and Deportation of "Ambassador" of Russian Soviet

Said To Be Real Leader of Communist Party in the United States

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A warrant for the arrest and deportation of Ludwig G. A. K. Martens, self-styled ambassador of the Russian Soviet government, has been ordered executed by the department of justice.

Martens, regarded officials said, as the real leader of the communist party in the United States, was said to be in Washington. His arrest was expected soon.

Determination of the government to take Martens into custody was definitely made after all evidence which had a bearing on activities of the Russian Soviet interest in New York had been assembled by Assistant Attorney General Garvan. While officials would not disclose the nature of the evidence, they said some of it promised to be sensational.

Martens came to Washington nearly a week ago from New York and with his secretary and other assistants, has occupied a suite at a local hotel less than three blocks from the department of justice. The signatures on the hotel register are those of S. Nogotova, who said he was Martens' secretary, and who last night made public a statement attacking the department of justice.

NEW PEACE OFFER TO ALLIES

Lenine Sends Message to Allies by British Representative in Baltic States

Promises To Abolish Terrorism and Revolutionary Tribunals

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 7.—Nikolai Lenin, Russian Bolshevik premier, has made a new peace offer to the allies which is being taken to London by Col. Tallents, British representative in the Baltic states. Among other conditions included in the offer by Lenin is a promise to abolish terrorism and the activity of revolutionary tribunals, according to an Estonian newspaper.

Representation of Allies

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 7.—James O'Drady, British representative negotiating here with Maxim Litvinov, Bolshevik delegate for the exchange of British prisoners and the release of British civilians in Russia, is commissioned to negotiate for the repatriation of French and other nationalities in Russia, he says in an interview published here.

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Governor Coolidge announced the appointment today of Frederick W. Fosdick, son of a former mayor of Fitchburg, as Justice of the Superior Court. In place of Frederic H. Chase, resigned, Mr. Fosdick is now assistant attorney of Middlesex county.

ALLEGED DRAFT EVADER CAUGHT

Mother of Accused Man, With Revolver, Held Officers at Bay Several Hours

Police Break Into House and Land Man Sought For Two Years—Mother Arrested

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 7.—Grover Bergdolt, one of the two brothers accused of draft dodging and who have been sought by the police for the last two years, was arrested in his mother's home here today.

Detectors broke into the house by the front and rear entrances. They found Grover Bergdolt wrapped in a blanket, hiding in a box seat.

The search for the Bergdolts took the federal agents all over the country. Grover got away in a high powered motor car and reports reached the city that he was seen in various sections of the west. He sent impudent messages written on postcards to the authorities. Once he was seen in Mexico and again in Cuba. He was provided with a large sum of money. His mother, Mrs. Emma Bergdolt, is the widow of a wealthy brewer.

Although born in this country, the Bergdolts were of German descent and declared they would never fight against Germany. Mrs. Bergdolt was arrested several times on the charge of obstructing the draft.

Later Mrs. Bergdolt was arrested, charged with obstructing justice. With a revolver she had kept the officers at bay for several hours. An officer of the department of justice said Bergdolt probably would be turned over to the military authorities.

Mrs. Bergdolt was charged with aggravated assault and battery with intent to kill.

Erwin C. Bergdolt, also wanted for evading the draft, is still at large. It was reported, he also had returned to Philadelphia and federal agents searched the Bergdolt County estate near this city. No trace of him was found.

MAY STEAL CHIEF NEXT

Another Larceny at the Police Station—Boy Steals Revolver

Lowell police are a badly worried lot these days.

And you can't blame them, either. Short time ago someone stole over $1000 worth of whiskey from the cellar of the bastille.

Then this morning thirteen-year-old Michael Keeley stole Sgt. Bigelow's trusty six-shooter from its resting place in Capt. Brozman's desk in the police station.

Cops are wondering now if somebody will get after their uniforms next.

Yes; they sure are getting worried.

But to return to the tale of the stolen six-shooter, it happened thusly: Little Michael Keeley—for he is still a little lad despite his 13 summers—has been a sojourner at the Middlesex County Truant school for some time.

Appearances would indicate that Michael doesn't appreciate the efforts

MINERS ACCEPT WILSON'S OFFER

Ratify Action of Officers in Accepting Proposal To End Coal Strike

Vote Carries Acceptance of Any Award Made by President's Commission

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Jan. 7.—The United Mine Workers of America in convention here today, ratified the action of the international officers in accepting President Wilson's proposal to end the coal strike on a 10 per cent increase basic and a commission to draw up a new wage agreement.

The vote was taken just before noon after Acting President Lewis had made a plea for ratification. It was taken on the motion by President Murray of the Pennsylvania miners' organization that the report of the international officers be accepted. According to Acting President Lewis, the ratification carried with it acceptance of any award to be made by the president's commission. The vote was 1639 for ratification to 221 against.

LATER MARTENS INTO CUSTODY

Large Drug Corporation Said To Be Negotiating For Carter & Sherburne Co.

Extensive changes in the appearance of Merrimack square, Lowell's most centrally located meeting place, will occur if the present rumored plans work out for the transfer of the business of the Carter & Sherburne Co. in the Grosvenor block to a large drug concern which has operated a chain of stores in the middle-western part of the state for several years.

News came to the city today from an out-of-town source that the Green Drug Co. was the concern likely to take over the lease of the store and make an outright purchase of the stock and good will of the Carter & Sherburne Co., but no person connected with the latter company would make a statement regarding it today.

It is said that the transfer of the business includes plans for a complete renovation of the store in the square, exterior and interior and that the purchasing corporation would install a store similar to the large establishment it now operates in Worcester and Springfield.

For years the Carter & Sherburne store was run as half drug store and half Bay State waiting room and, although the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. several months ago moved its information and starter's booth into the Howe building and turned waiting rooms "provincial and unnecessary," the store still continues to be used by many people in winter months as a shelter while waiting for cars.

The location in question has been much sought after by a number of concerns for the past few years. With the removal of the Bay State offices from the second floor of the building, it was rumored that new tenant would take over a lease of the ground floor space, but investigation did not lend any foundation to the story.

One or two local enterprises, also, in time past, have attempted to purchase the entire corner property, but without success, it is said.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton.

The Wonderful Ball

All day Nancy and Nick had hunted for Jocko. But even with their green shoes and the magical mushroom to help them they had had no success. Finally they arrived at the hay field and spent a long time playing in the great stack piled up near the gate. They pretended it was an enchanted mountain and contained a treasure. Nick found a curious round ball and after examining it the children decided to have a game. The ball was woven of straw and fine twigs and made a splendid plaything. After a while the twins saw Mr.

Mr. Mouse stroke his whiskers thoughtfully. "Did you see Caesar, the cat, around anywhere?" he asked. "Or Oscar Owl, or Sam Snake?" Nancy shook her head. "No, we didn't see any of them."

Mrs. Mouse began to snifflie. "Oh, Mrs. Mouse will be sick if they're not properly watched. Mignette has a cold anyway, and Maude-marie is subject to croup, and—"

Suddenly she shrieked, "Why, there they are, sticking out of your pocket!"

WELCOME WORLD WAR VETERANS

General Adelbert Ames
Camp No. 19 Honors
Its Service Members

New Veterans Welcomed by
Comrades of a Previous
War—Eloquent Addresses

General Adelbert Ames Camp, No. 19, of the United Spanish War Veterans of this city, tendered a welcome home reception to 19 of its world war veterans in Memorial hall last evening that must have thrilled the gallant hearts of the honored veterans of two wars and certainly made a deep impression on the several hundred members of the camp, of Edith Prescott Wolcott, Ladies auxiliary and various invited guests, all of whom united in a program of welcome patriotically in harmony with the traditions of the heroes of '98.

The reception was one of the most successful of the many already held in Lowell and perhaps the greatest factor in the success was that the new veterans were being welcomed by their comrade veterans of a previous war who by their own experiences were cognizant of the great test that their honored guests had met.

A bounteous banquet served shortly after 7 o'clock by Caterer Harvey preceded the formalities of the evening. Members of the camp, escorting their wives and sisters, marched into the hall and stood at their places

while the world war men filed triumphantly into the scene of welcome reception. The Bay State quartet of Boston, one of the best heard in Lowell in many months, entertained with selections during the meal and afterward.

The speakers of the evening included among others, Albert P. Langtry, secretary of state; Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston; Mayor Perry D. Thompson and Timothy W. Kelley, department commander of the United Spanish War Veterans of this section. Invocation was said by Rev. William F. Dusseau.

William M. Prescott, commander of the post, called to order shortly after 8 o'clock and introduced Frank Dodge as the toastmaster of the evening.

Toastmaster Dodge welcomed the veterans of the world war in a fitting address, pointed out the unique honor they had of being the veterans of two wars and emphasized the fact that the Spanish war was the only war that the United States had taken part in which had been fought wholly by volunteers.

"At the present time," he said, "we

FRANK DODGE,
Toastmaster

near much about Americanism. I want to tell you that the Spanish American war veterans are 100 percent American just as American as any other body in this country. If anybody doubts that statement, let him look at our book of ceremonies, every bit of which has to do with the upholding of our flag and country. I can assure the officials of our city, our state and our nation that any time there is a call to uphold the honor of the republic the Spanish War veterans will be ready to go to the front line of duty."

Presented Bill-Folds

Arthur F. Salmon, an honorary member of the camp, was next called upon and after dwelling upon the splendid record of the veterans before him in the two wars, proceeded to the pleasant duty of presenting each of the world war veterans of the camp a handsomely engraved leather bill-fold, bearing the name and insignia of the camp as well as the name of the recipient. As Alexander D. Mitchell, secretary of the camp, read the names of the heroes, Mr. Salmon presented the souvenir and those present applauded.

When the name of Priv. William E. Coleman was read, Toastmaster Dodge paid a fitting tribute to him as the one member of the camp who had given up his life in France and the souvenir of this comrade was presented to his wife. The quartet sang an appropriate hymn as a mark of respect for the deceased veteran and the assemblage stood with heads bowed.

The Roll of Honor

The nineteen veterans who survived the rigors of two wars and who were honored last evening were the following:

Col. Alexander Greig, Jr., Major Colby T. Kittridge, Captain Thomas W. Doyle, Captain Augustus E. Duncan, Captain James N. Greig, Capt. Walter R. Jayes, Lieutenant Commander Wm. E. Dobbs, Lieutenant Charles J. Duffy, Lieutenant Michael H. Harrington, Lieutenant Louis G. Munton, Sergeant Walter L. Cutler, Sergeant Frank Hotchkiss, Sergeant Patrick H. Wallace, Corporal Eugene J. Aldrich, Corporal Thomas W. F. Bagley, Corporal Nere Turgeon, Private John A. Delmore, Private Cornelius F. Buckley, Scaman Patrick G. Lynch.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson

Mayor Perry D. Thompson was then introduced and in a characteristic vein he opened with a few delightful anecdotes of his own connection with the Spanish war as well as with the more recent conflict. Becoming more serious, he said that on the surface the war of 1898 might have seemed small and unimportant but that in reality it was a cog in a very important machine. He referred to the attempts of the Bolsheviks to gain a foothold in this country and said that as he travelled about Lowell and mingled with its people, he became convinced that the radical element would find it hard to gain a foothold in this city. In conclusion, he asked that all present pledge themselves anew to be faithful to their comrades, to them-faithful to their comrades to them-selves and to their country.

Hon. Albert P. Langtry

Then came the principal speaker of the evening, Hon. Albert P. Langtry, secretary of the commonwealth. With his usual vigor and forceful eloquence of a type that reminded one not a little of the Rooseveltian manner of speaking, Mr. Langtry glorified the part this country played in the Spanish and world wars, assailed those enemies of the nation which are now trying to destroy it and pleaded for active preparation as a preventive of future wars.

He said in part: "America has been in many wars, but never has she fought for the right more valiantly than in the world war. This is a great country of great resources but she has always gone into her wars unprepared. She was unprepared at the time she entered the Spanish war, but two men among her leaders tried to show her the blunder. One of them was Theodore Roosevelt and the other Augustus P. Gardner, who gave up his life for his country.

"Do you realize that comparatively America was nothing in the world war? Do you realize that there were 50 British soldiers and 60 French soldiers killed to every one American soldier? Do you realize that nearly every woman in Great Britain and France is wearing black tonight because some member of nearly every British and French family gave up his life in this terrible, terrible war?

"This great war has accomplished one great thing—it has broken down the barriers between religions, Catholic and Protestant, Jew and Gentile, we unit by a common purpose. When Clemenceau wanted a man to take command of the allied armies he went to Foch. Foch told him that he was not the man for the job because he was a religious man, and Clemenceau replied that that was just why they wanted him.

Every Nation Has Traitors

"Every nation in war has traitors and our own country had ten times as many as other countries in this recent war. I believe we had a million traitors here during the war—not active traitors, but men and women who were wishing that Germany would win. You know how the secret service rounded up these people and put them in confinement until the war was ended. That is not what I would do with traitors in time of war. At daybreak I'd stand them up in front of a squad of soldiers and I'd shoot them dead.

"I have a theory which I believe would make the United States the greatest fighting country in the world. I'd suggest that congress enact a law that would take every young man at his eighteenth birthday and give him a year's military training under a West Point officer.

"But that would take a year out of his life, some of the timid may say. I tell you it would not take a year out of his life, but rather add a year to it. I have never seen anything as wonderful as the physical development of our young men who served in the world war. Roosevelt said that if we had been prepared for war we should never have gone into it, the Louisiana should never have been sunk. Give us the biggest and strongest army and navy in the world and we'll never go into war.

"Your distinguished mayor referred in his address to Bolshevism. I've been talking Bolshevism steadily every night for the past three weeks until I'm about talked out on it, but I do want to say that it is a terrible menace. There are more Bolsheviks in Massachusetts than any other state in the country and there are no less than 27 Bolshevik societies right here in this Commonwealth. I am told by those who know that the strongest Bolshevik movements in the state are in Boston, Lowell, Lawrence and Lynn, so you see you have the menace right in your own city.

"The democratic administration in Washington has been doing the best job since it got into office during the last few days when it has collared these Bolsheviks and ordered them deported to Russia."

In closing, the secretary expressed the good wishes of Governor Coolidge who was unable to be present because Mr. Langtry said, "he is busy with his presidential campaign. His is a very serious candidacy and I am frank to say that I believe him thoroughly qualified for that high office."

Rev. William F. Dusseau

Rev. William F. Dusseau, a veteran chaplain of the Spanish War veterans, was the next speaker and in a stirring delivered address he pointed out that the Spanish war was a short one because it had been ended speedily and thoroughly by the men who fought it. He said that the election of Col. Logan as state commander of the legion and Louis Frothingham as vice-commander.

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald

Hon. John F. Fitzgerald, former mayor of Boston, was next on the program and owing to his haste to make a train, his address was cut short but what there was of it showed "Honey Fitz" in his best style.

He decelerated the spirit which prompted people to look upon the Spanish war as a "small war" because he said there was never a body of men more willing to sacrifice their lives for their country than the Spanish war veterans. The developments which began the war, if not checked by the American fighters, might have led to the embroiling of all Europe.

He deemed it one of the greatest honors of his life to be an honorary member of the United Spanish War Veterans.

asturistic Fitzgeraldian touch, the former mayor sang the chorus of his beloved "Sweet Adeline." The applause which followed him as he left the hall was deafening.

William A. Arnold, superintendent of state aid, and Lawrence Cummings, were the final speakers and each was in a most enjoyable mood. The program closed with the general singing of "America."

The committee in charge of the evening's arrangements was:

Frank Dodge, chairman; William J. Bradley, Joseph F. Murphy, Arthur F. Salmon, honorary member; Wm. M. Prescott, commander; Alexander D. Mitchell, secretary.

Are You Suspicious of Your Health?

One may not be actually sick, yet feel so tired and languid, low-spirited and ambitious, that he can not truthfully say he is in good health. The kidneys work all the time, night and day, and it is no wonder that they become weak, sore or diseased. Nearly everybody suffers from kidney trouble or bladder ailments. Nature gives warning signals by backache, lameness, stiff joints, sore muscles, rheumatic pains, puffiness under the eyes and blurred vision.

RELIEVED HIS BACKACHE

"It gives me great pleasure to recommend Foley Kidney Pills as in my case they relieved me of a severe backache I had bothered me for seven months. A few bottles fixed me up in good shape." —Jos. G. Wolf, 731 S. Jackson St., Green Bay, Wis.

Foley Kidney Pills

give quick and permanent relief from kidney or bladder troubles that have not reached a chronic or bad stage. They stop bladder irritabilities, strengthen the kidneys and tone up the liver. When the kidneys are properly functioning, they filter and cast out from the blood the impurities that cause aches and pains and in the end may lead to serious illness. If you have any cause to suspect that your kidneys need help, you will make no mistake in taking Foley's Kidney Pills.

Perfect Comfort, Strength and Appearance Are What You Want in Artificial Teeth

And the greatest of these is COMFORT. Comfort means careful fitting and a set of teeth so designed that there is obtained an exact reproduction of the formation of the natural mouth. It means space for the tongue, clearness of speech, and proper mastication.

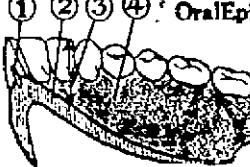

With OralEpic Sets (the world's greatest advancement in Dentistry within sixty years),

Old Style

1 Old Style Pin Fastening and Teeth
Buried in Rubber Plate
2 Thick Heavy Plate
3 Short Distance Between Roof of Plate and Edge of Teeth
4 Cramped Space for Tongue

OralEpic

1 New Pin Attachment and Teeth
Placed Naturally
2 Unusual Thinness of Plate
3 Increased Distance Between Roof of Mouth and Edge of Teeth
4 Plenty of Room for Tongue

coupled with our experience in such work, you are assured of perfect COMFORT. Generations of dentists have striven to accomplish results obtained by the development of OralEpic teeth which, by a radical departure in construction, abolishes forever that feeling of a mouth full of rubber, which old-style sets produce. By "old-style" we mean the teeth with their side-pin fastenings which must be buried two-thirds of their length in hard, ungiving rubber to insure strength—the sets which our grandfathers used and which today are still utilized, because, until the development of OralEpic teeth, no better were known.

If you want to know real mouth comfort, investigate OralEpic construction. You are cordially invited to visit our consultation rooms for a demonstration and explanation of the benefits that OralEpic teeth will bring to you. OralEpic sets must be seen, in order to appreciate their beauty, strength, appearance and comfort. We are at your service without any obligation upon your part.

JOHN M'MANUS DEAD

Well Known Constable and Children's Friend Passed Away Last Night

Lowell loses a familiar face and thousands of children will keenly feel the loss of a tried and true friend in the death of Constable John McManus, which occurred last night at his home, 42 Bartlett street. His age was 57 years. He had been in failing health for some time, although it was only recently that he was confined to his home.

As a constable Mr. McManus was widely known, but as a friend of human on the warmth of their greeting and show of appreciation on picnics day.

Although this annual event entailed a lot of hard work in preparation and more to carry it safely through, Mr. McManus felt richly paid in the thought that his feeble contribution to the happiness of these children was unstintedly appreciated. He got real joy through giving and long will be remembered as John McManus, the children's friend.

Deceased served as a constable for several years. He was a member of Division 13, A.O.U., the Y.M.C.A. and the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception church. He leaves one son, John F. McManus, who now is serving as a constable.

Makes More Cotton Yarn and Consumes More Raw Cotton Than Any Nation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The United States manufactures more cotton yarn and consumes more raw cotton than any other country in the world, the tariff commission announced today in reporting results of a special investigation.

More than 98 per cent of cotton yarns required for domestic industry is produced in the United States, the report said, and imports of cotton yarn are mainly supplemental. Some changes in tariff duties were recommended by the commission.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

B. F. KEEF'S THEATRE

Ruth Rose, at the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, is a 100 per cent hit. The little singing comedienne, despite the handicap of cold, rouses audiences to a wonderful pitch of enthusiasm. She possesses the knack of "tutting" even as few others can boast. Her work is decidedly clever. The dancing of W. Horlick and the Saranya Sisters is another especially good feature. Horlick was formerly in the support of Anna Pavlova. The Saranya Sisters are come-here young women who surely know how to dance, and they are especially good. The Jester, a number set to the music of a lost Hungarian rhapsodie. Light and airy and up to the minute are Langford and Freerleke in their comedy, "Shopping." Other good things on the week's bill are: Reed & Tucker, violinists; the Four Buttercups, singers, and Miss Latoy's Canine Models.

OPERA HOUSE

"The Big Chance" Willard Mack's stage triumph of recent date, which was released for stock use within a few weeks, is being given its first local production, and one of the best stock productions in the country, this week, at the Lowell Playhouse at the Opera House. It is the story of a New England mill girl and her soldier lover, in which the world war is used as the instrument that redeems them both. Miss Marguerite Fields and John Mehan have wonderfully interesting parts that offer them exceptional opportunity to display their unusual talents. See them both and the excellent supporting cast, including Howard Merlin, William Melville, Jack Bennett, Priscilla Knowles and the rest. Order your tickets early and avoid possible disappointment.

THE STRAND

Because of the big demand of the patrons, and to satisfy the disappointed ones who were unable to see the latest Fairbanks special, "When the Clouds Roll By," the management has decided to hold over this picture for the remainder of the week. The announcement, no doubt, will prove a happy and satisfying one to hundreds. And besides this there will be a new feature on the bill, beginning Thursday afternoon, in which Albert Ray and Ellinor Fair, the co-stars of the screen, will appear in their latest picture comedy, "Vagabond Luck." It's a dandy and will surely please you.

No, he just tightens his muscles and squares himself for a mighty attack on this annoying superstition, and smiles at the original fable.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

William S. Hart in "John Portraits," his comedy success, and Cosmo Hamilton's new story of British society, "The Miracle of Love," will close their engagements at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening when the final presentation of these two excellent features will be given.

Beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing for the rest of the week the program will feature Charles Chaplin, the best liked star of the screen, in "Red Hot Dollars," one of his liveliest and most interesting productions. "Red Hot Dollars" presents Ray as a youthful machinist and is said to be a thoroughly entertaining picture. One of the biggest scenes of the play is when the "big man" of the town throws open his house and grounds for a large social gathering. It's the top of the hour for weeks ahead; the ladies bring forth their fanciest gowns, and the men "spruce up" as never before. Myriad Chinese lanterns hang from the trees of the grounds and youth and beauty at the original fable.

Stomach Trouble

Generally speaking, this is the term usually applied to all unpaired conditions of the important organ of the body. Specifically expressed, stomach trouble may arise from one of the following disturbances: INDIGESTION, SOURNESS, GAS, NAUSHEA, GASTRITIS and ULCERS. The stomach is the principal factor for almost all our ill RE-BUILDS and make VIGOROUS this MOST vital organ by taking the wonderful SISTER MARY'S COMPOUND. Contains NO alcohol or injurious drugs. At all druggists.—Adv.

mingling in the moonlight. This is but one of the many delightful moments in this new Ray production.

Dainty Olive Thomas in "Out Yonder," Pictorial Life and a recently released news picture are the other features.

OWL THEATRE

Today is the last day for the remarkable program now running at the Owl Theatre. Remarkable indeed is the work of the Jap, Sessue Hayakawa, in this his newest, latest and greatest production. No admirer of his acting art, no actor should miss this picture, for it's entirely different from anything which he has ever done and very, very much different from the average picture story. To miss this "Tong Man" is to miss the greatest work of this wonderfully talented actor. Then, too, one must not overlook Olive Thomas, she who has won much fame as a stage star and model. Her portrayal of the chorus girl in "The Folies Girl" is worth while. Baby Gloria Joy in "Corinne, Corinne, Here," in two reels; Fatty Arbuckle and Ford Sterling in "The Life of Riley"; and the Pathé News cartoon—make up a bill which should send all the movie fans out on the run to the Owl. Coming Thursday is William Russell in "Six Feet Four," from the novel of the same name, which is now in the fourth edition. It's real; it's red-blooded; it's played the biggest and best time, and we're sure that the management is keeping to its promise to deliver high grade pictures. Monday will bring Charlie Chaplin in his fourth million-dollar picture, "A Day of Pleasure."

BERGER DRIVENOUT OF JERSEY CITY

William S. Hart in "John Portraits," his comedy success, and Cosmo Hamilton's new story of British society, "The Miracle of Love," will close their engagements at the Merrimack Square theatre this evening when the final presentation of these two excellent features will be given.

Beginning tomorrow afternoon and continuing for the rest of the week the program will feature Charles Chaplin, the best liked star of the screen, in "Red Hot Dollars," one of his liveliest and most interesting productions. "Red Hot Dollars" presents Ray as a youthful machinist and is said to be a thoroughly entertaining picture. One of the biggest scenes of the play is when the "big man" of the town throws open his house and grounds for a large social gathering. It's the top of the hour for weeks ahead; the ladies bring forth their fanciest gowns, and the men "spruce up" as never before. Myriad Chinese lanterns hang from the trees of the grounds and youth and beauty at the original fable.

SOVIET CENTERS, BACKED BY AMERICAN COMMUNISTS, ESTABLISHED IN GLASGOW

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Victor Berger, representative-elect from the 5th Wisconsin district, was escorted out of Jersey City last night by Chief of Police Battersby. He was scheduled to speak at a widely advertised mass meeting under the auspices of the Socialist Educational Club. With Berger went Oscar Ameringer, his first Lieutenant, also advertised as a speaker.

The police refused to permit the meeting to be held.

DISCUSS DISPOSAL OF BONDED WHISKEY

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 7.—George F. Dellerie, Cincinnati distiller, has been authorized to appoint a committee to go to Washington and discuss with the federal officials the problem of disposing of the bonded whiskey in the United States. This was announced at the close of a meeting of 100 distillers from all sections of the country here yesterday. Mr. Dellerie presided at the conference.

Of the total of 60,000,000 gallons of bonded whiskey in the United States 35,000,000 gallons are in warehouses in Kentucky.

No way of disposing of this immense quantity of liquor, valued at hundreds of millions of dollars, has been provided by congress except by exportation and even that will be prohibited after Jan. 16 when the federal dry amendment goes into effect.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

A very enthusiastic meeting of the members of the C.M.A.C. took place last evening in the quarters of the association in Pawtucket street, the occasion being the annual installation of officers. President Adolphe O. Brassard occupied the chair, the attendance was large, considerable business was transacted and a social hour was held at the close of the business session.

In the early part of the evening the recently elected officers were inducted into office by Lawyer Arthur L. Eno, those taking the oath of office being as follows: Adolphe C. Brassard, president; Frank Leclair, vice president; Thomas Berube, recording secretary; Joseph Simard, assistant recording secretary; Adelard Cluny, corresponding secretary; Joseph J. Lamoureux, treasurer; Napoleon Loxeau, financial secretary; Donald Champagne, assistant financial secretary; Albert Guibault, first marshal; George Simard, second marshal; Michel Drouin, librarian; William Lussier, Paul Ledoux and Albert Simard, directors; Joseph Ouallie, interior sentinel; Albert Lutz, exterior sentinel; Dr. George E. Calso, physician.

At the close of the installation President Brassard was presented a handsome shaving set as a token of appreciation for services rendered; the association, the presentation address being delivered by Lawyer Eno. Interesting remarks were made by President Brassard, Rev. L. N. Bachand, O.M.I., chaplain of the organization; Rep. Henry Achin, Lawyer Eno and others.

Loyal Waimesett Lodge

At a meeting of the members of Loyal Waimesett Lodge, I.O.O.F., M.U., held last evening, the newly elected officers of the organization were inducted into office by Deputy George Emsley and suite, the new officers being as follows: Freeman Lightowler, G. M.; William H. Howe, N.G.; George E. Heeley, V.G.; Thomas Robinson, P.G.; Isaac Tinker, treasurer; Hugh Ferguson, E.S.; E. J. David, physician; P. N. Brunelle, druggist; Arthur Wills, Arthur Capper, John Foster, auditors;

Frank Cleveland, R.S. to N.G.; William Bamber, L.S. to N.G.; John Corfield, R.S. to V.G.; William Waterman, L.S. to V.G.; Arthur Capper, chaplain and L.S.; Malcolm Fryer, O.G.; Alford Hill, I.G.; Arthur J. Willis, warden, and William Mack, conductor. A past grand's emblem was presented P.G. William Mack and certificates were granted to the following past grands to take the purple lecture; John Corfield, John W. Foster, Frank Cleveland and William Mack.

Waimesett Staff Association

The installation of the recently elected officers of Waimesett Staff association took place at a meeting held Sunday and the men inducted into office were as follows: Richard Holden, president; John Mills, vice president; Willis Bowles, secretary; Arthur Willis, treasurer; Fred Chapman, relief committee. Routine business was transacted.

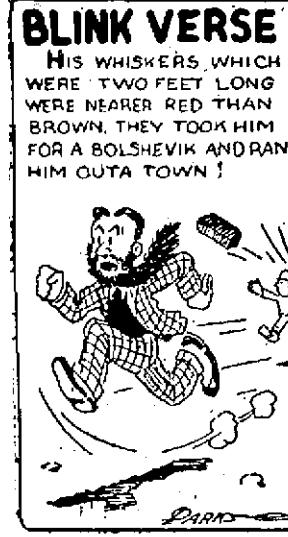

BOARD OF TRADE SMOKER TOMORROW

It is estimated that between four and five hundred Lowell citizens will attend the board of trade smoker tomorrow evening in Memorial hall, when the opening guns of the reorganization and membership campaign will be fired. The meeting will provide the first injection of pep and interest in the drive which will culminate in a chamber of commerce, city-wide in scope, impartial in its activities and ever-ready to serve

Lowell in any capacity.

In the unavoidable absence of Mayor Percy D. Thompson, Commissioner George E. Marchand, as president of the municipal council, will represent the city and extend the greetings of the public. The principal speaker will be George Dugan, a director in the Albion chamber of commerce, and a former governor of the Rotary club of eastern New York. He is a brilliant and illuminating speaker and will be heard with much interest.

Another speaker will be Seward E. Price, executive secretary of the Bridgeport, Conn., chamber of commerce, and considered to be one of the best civic organizations in New England. His work in Bridgeport has stamped him a man of action and accomplishment and he will have a vitally interesting story to tell of things actually done in his city since the reorganization took place there several years ago. The city has a chamber of nearly 1300 members, who work day by day to make the community a better place in which to live.

BEWARE MR. BACHELOR FOR LEAP YEAR IS UPON US

If a Fair Maiden "Vamps" You It Is Up to You to Accept Her or Pay the Toll ---Might Play "Hard-of-Hearing" Act

BY LORRY A. JACOBS,
N.E.A. Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—If a coy maiden, possessed of endearing charms, casts amorous glances at you, unmarried man, during this leap year, either flee as fast as your legs will carry you, leave a sigh of resignation and prepare for the wedding bells, or get out your checkbook.

These are the three alternatives, according to Miss Margaret Lawrence, erstwhile star of "Wedding Bells," playing on Broadway. Miss Lawrence recently trotted over to the Carnegie Library and dug out some history in regard to leap year, which she says is so promising that she's thinking of forming a society—the Society for the Protection of Unmarried Men of Comfortable Income.

Solace To Be Found

There's plenty of solace and comfort in leap year for the girl who has not yet marched down the aisle to the Lohengrin strains. Miss Lawrence found that, according to the law in England—the common law, which is a basis for the law we now use—a spinster, during leap year, may propose to the man of her choice, and he must accept, give her a silk dress, or a kiss, or all three. Miss Lawrence also found plenty of other justification for leap year. For in the old Scotch law is the following: "It is statut and ordant that during the rein of her maist blisst Megeste, for ilk year known as lepo year, ilk maiden layde of bothe highe and lowe estalt, shall haue liberte to bespeke ye man she likes, albeit he refuses to talk her to be his lawfule wif, he shall be mulcted in ye sume amo pounds or less as his estalt may be; except and avin gif he can make it appear that he is betraith une ther women, he then shall be free."

Columbus Would Remember

The same law is to be found in French legal history and there are records showing that the privilege was granted to maidens of Florence and Vienna, at the same time Columbus left for America.

Therefore, sweet maiden, take heart. And, gruff bachelor, take heed, for there is additional warning in the following from the jaws of "Love, Courtship and Matrimony," a little book published in London, 1088.

"Albeit it nowe become a part of the common lawe in regard to social relations of life, that as often as every leap yeaer doth return, the ladies have the sole privilege during the time it continueth of making love, either by words or looks, as to them it seemeth proper, and, moreover, no man will be entitled to benefit of clergy who doth in any wise treat her with slight or contumely."

INTEREST RATES ON BANK BALANCES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—A second conference of representatives of clearing house associations and federal reserve board officials will be held in Chicago on Jan. 23, when another effort will be made to reach an agreement on the question of interest rates on bank balances. At the conference here yesterday, the bankers failed to reach a decision.

Health came back with RED PILLS
for Pale and Weak Women.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU

Being the mother of a large family, besides having been the victim of three premature illnesses, I was in such a weakened condition that I really thought I was going to die. One day someone hinted that I should give RED PILLS a trial; I immediately started taking them, and continued doing so for about eight months. I gradually noticed that I was getting stronger, and so kept up the treatment for a year, with the result that I was completely recovered. Since that time, I have given birth to several children, who are all healthy and fine, thanks to my improved state of health after taking RED PILLS.

MRS. ALFRED JUNEAU,
5 North Mohawk,
Cohoes, N.Y.

RED PILLS are for women only.
They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "Franco-American Chemical Company Limited" is on every box.

TO DEMAND EXTRADITION OF FORMER KAISER

AMMERSSEN, Tuesday Jan. 6.—Alied demands for the extradition of former Emperor William of Germany, in which it is known America will not participate, are expected at The Hague about Jan. 15.

Recent press despatches have stated Count Hohenzollern might surrender rather than embarrass The Netherlands government, but it is authoritatively reported he will rely on the protection of Holland and her refusal to honor the allied demand. Only the erstwhile kaiser and his closest advisers know definitely his plans, but, unless he changes his mind, it is learned, he is determined to settle down to life at Doorn, where his house is being rushed to completion. More workers were sent from here to Doorn yesterday.

It has been estimated that the world's forests could supply nourishment to its entire population.

TO CELEBRATE
"PROHIBITION EVE"

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—The celebration of a "prohibition eve" on Jan. 16 promises to surpass any New Year's eve event in the history of New York, judging by the rush of applications for reserved tables at hotels. Managers of the Waldorf-Astoria, Claridge, the McAlpin and other hotels announced today that patrons, who wished to be present when John Harleymen's official "swan song" is sung, have declared that they intend to celebrate his "wake" in the manner that has come into vogue since the advent of wartime prohibition.

The patrons will carry to the tables their own wines and other alcoholic liquors and celebrate in public for the last time "the passing of the old, the coming of the new."

$7,500,000 THEATRE FOR FIFTH AVENUE

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Fifth avenue New York's historic thoroughfare, will grace by a $7,500,000 theatre and office building at 37th street, according to plans made public today. The new building will be 11 stories in height, with a tower in the center rising an additional 12 stories.

The theatre will be small, seating

1 and 4—Pliny W. Horne, Universal camera man, and William Stowell, Universal director, both Americans, who made the first trip to the bottom of Victoria Falls. Stowell was killed and Horne badly injured in a railroad wreck shortly after their falls adventure. 2—Stowell, in helmet, and Thomas McEwen, "Telever," a "legged" monkey, on Livingstone Island, picking out a place of descent on opposite wall of cliff. 3—Horne starting his descent down the Devil's Cataract. 4—Dugout boat into 400-foot chasm of Victoria Falls. Whirlpool rapids and part of rock wall near Rainbow Falls shown in the background. 5—Map showing Victoria Falls, Rainbow Falls, Boiling Pot and Devil's Point (indicated by star), where Horne and Stowell went "over the top" and down into rock pit where man had been before.

The descent of Victoria Falls, in South Africa, by William Stowell and Pliny Horne, was the last spectacular stunt in the life of Stowell, and the last, for a long time, at least, for Horne. Stowell, with Dr. J. R. Armstrong, business manager of the Smithsonian African expedition, was killed in a railroad wreck in Belgian Congo, a few days after history had been made in the Falls adventure. Horne was injured in the wreck and is being invalided to America.

BY EDWARD M. THIERRY

N.E.A. Staff Correspondent With Smithsonian-Universal African Expedition
VICTORIA FALLS, South Africa.—Two daring Americans have performed a world-beatingfeat—the descent of Victoria Falls.

Scaling a precipice of 360 feet with a rope, they accomplished a hazardous climb down the remaining rocks to the water's edge at the extreme bottom of the great pit—a total of more than 400 feet—and stand where no human foot has ever trod.

First to penetrate the pit were Pliny W. Horne and William Stowell, both of Los Angeles.

Horne is a camera man and Stowell, a film director for the Universal Film Co. They are members of the Smithsonian African Expedition, a party of scientists and motion picture men touring Africa. Never in history since the Missionary-Explorer Dr. Livingstone discovered Victoria Falls in 1855, has any living thing been at the bottom of the chasm, save baboons and birds.

AMERICANS ARE FIRST AGAIN

Daring Adventurers Make History in Descent of Victory Falls

Movie Men With the Smithsonian Expedition Stage a Real Thriller

To appreciate what the Americans did: Imagine a cleft in the earth 400 feet deep and of a width varying from 250 to 400 feet; sheer, perpendicular cliffs, a mile without footholds; the chasm a right angle to the Zambezi River, which cascades over the one long side of the arrow, longitudinal pit, leaving the opposite cliff bare, mist-hatched and forbidding; imagine the chasma in the earth, with only one narrow outlet near one end, a gateway with rocky sides falling vertically into a swirling pool of water, a maelstrom aptly called the Boiling Pot. Had the rope broken there would have been no escape for Stowell or Horne from the bottom of the pit. They couldn't scale the sides. They couldn't swim the whirlpool current. There was just a narrow ledge to stand on, no path along the bottom's edge to the gateway from the chasm into the gorge.

And Stowell and Horne made not one descent—but two. Previous to penetrating the full distance, they first went over the cliff of Cataract Island to the bottom of Devil's cataract, the most westerly cascade of Victoria Falls, a distance of 260 feet.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

HAVE YOU RHEUMATISM, KIDNEY, LIVER OR BLADDER TROUBLE?

Pain or dull ache in the back is often evidence of kidney trouble. It is Nature's timely warning to show you that the track of health is not clear.

Danger Signals

If these danger signals are unheeded more serious results are sure to follow; kidney trouble is its worst form, it may seal your doom.

Thousands of people have testified that the mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney-liver and bladder medicine is soon realized—that it stands the highest for its remarkable curative effect in the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine, you should have the best.

like little sunbeams!

And now Mistress Fashion is patting them on the head!

Only often they couldn't find the colors they wanted—they had taken the shops by surprise.

And then came a wonderful new, good, fairy scattering lovely colors everywhere she went! And so easily, that Mother could hardly believe it when she first washed a little suit into charming yellowness.

You can wash the warm bright color into every little frock and romper

SHE just washed that woolly, white Teddy Bear suit of Dicky's. She washed it with Twink—the wonderful new colored flakes—and Dicky frisked about like a little sunbeam in the snow.

Everything that ungrown-ups can wear, party frocks, stout play dresses, small son's linen blouse the sun faded so, sister's soft wool sweater—all come crowding to be made bright green, tan, yellow, blue, pink and red. And Twink is making them as merry as their little wearers.

The Twink colors make you "of this season" in everything you wear, for the colors were chosen with the help of this country's authorities on fabric colors. And every time the colors turn out right, Today get two or three boxes of Twink in the colors you've been reading about and wanting. You can make every one of your blouses lovely—and once you've done it, there'll be no stopping you. Frocks, scarfs, underthings, they'll all go the radiant Twink way. And Twink won't injure any fabric pure water alone won't harm.

Get Twink at any department store, at your druggist's, or the five and ten cent stores.—Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux.)

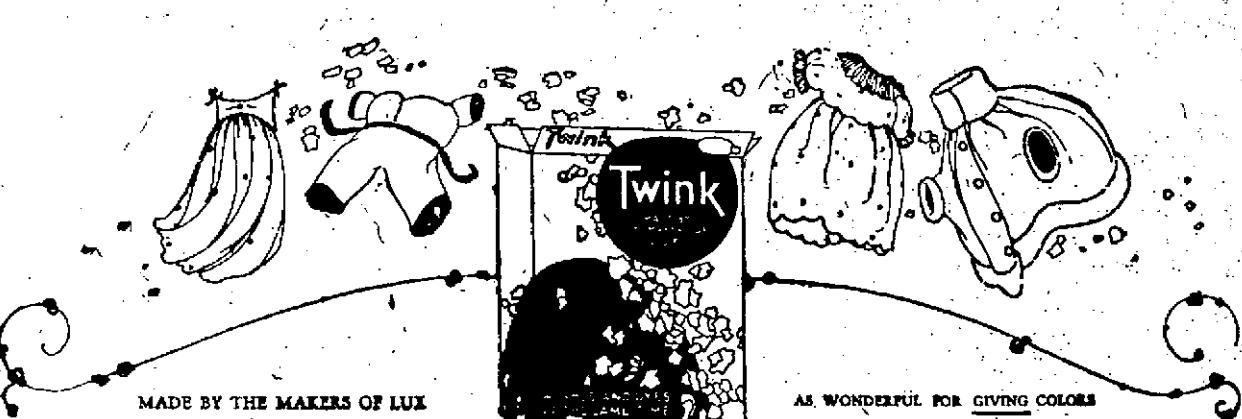

In these smartest of colors:
Flesh, Pink, Peach, Old Rose, Bright Red, Dark Red, Baby Blue, Copenhagen, Turquoise, Navy Blue, Yellow, Lavender, Purple, Light Green, Dark Green, Light Gray, Taupe, Blaque, Dark Brown.

How to use Twink

For Flesh, Pink, Peach, Old Rose, Yellow and Lavender: Make a lather as hot as your hands will bear. Wash garments as with Lux, only rinsing in cold water.

For the other colors: Use salt, and boiling water. Work the garments about in the boiling hot Twink suds for at least five minutes, then add cold water until just cool enough for your hands to bear. Squeeze suds through and rinse in cold water, until water runs clear.

The amounts to use are given in the directions that come with the Twink package.

against the sheer wall of rock, loosened a fair-sized stone."

I saw that piece of rock start down. Then I heard it land—kerplunk at the bottom of the chasm.

It sounded dreadful. I wondered if it would sound the same if I fell.

When I reached the bottom, drenched from the mist, and got the knots untied and was free from the seal, I scrambled over the slippery rocks and searched in my pockets for a dry piece of paper. Then I wrote a note to Stowell, to send up on the rope. The best way I could describe it was like this:

"Slippery as hell! Bring your stick to keep yourself away from the wall. Fine ride when you get used to it."

A CLIMB DOWN INTO AN UNEXPLORED PIT TO GET MOVIE FILM

BY WILLIAM STOWELL

Director, Universal Film Company

VICTORIA FALLS, South Africa

Cliffs and precipices, in the movie world, are never very deep. Not to be compared with the dizzy depth of the chasm of Victoria Falls.

I went down twice with Pliny Horne. Even though the second drop was 400 feet, it was the first trip down—260 feet—that gave me the biggest thrill.

Backing over the edge was a ticklish job, even if I was hanging onto a wire rope guaranteed to hold two tons.

Two or three months after I left the nice solid ground on top of the cliff—it seemed that long—swung out from the rock wall. I felt myself spinning like a top!

I suddenly felt sorry for myself. It seemed to be all over with William! I wondered if they'd ever recover my body and—

Just then I stopped spinning and my feet touched the wall again.

But the worst of all was when it was getting dark. They had hauled Pliny and the cameras up. It was dark and wet and lonely.

I never realized what a fine, friendly, human sort of face a Barotse native has until I saw one on top of the cliff and a black hand stretched over to pull me to safety.

HOW IT FEELS TO GO WHERE A LIVING MAN NEVER HAS

BY PLINY W. HORNE

VICTORIA FALLS, South Africa

When Bill Stowell got the idea of going down into the unexplored chasm of Victoria Falls to get the first motion pictures ever taken from the bottom I fell all over myself trying to be the first to make the descent.

But when the time came to go "over the top" of the precipice I got nervous. I had St. Vitus dance in my knees.

Over the brink I went. I was tied onto a narrow board fixed at the end of a wire rope. My feet kicking

AGREE SMOKING NOT IMMORAL FOR WOMEN

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Many Boston men and women were interested in the recent decision of Supreme Court Justice Mullan of New York regarding the smoking of cigarettes by women, and last evening gave their views on the matter.

Justice Mullan ruled that it is not immoral for women to smoke cigarettes. Some of the best women in the country and in the world smoke cigarettes, he said. A husband had attempted to show that since cigarettes had been found in his wife's dresser drawer she must be a "bad character" and he had grounds for divorce for a divorce.

A husband had attempted to show that since cigarettes had been found in his wife's dresser drawer she must be a "bad character" and he had grounds for divorce for a divorce.

A wife of a former governor said that while she didn't believe in smoking she could not consider it immoral. "Women ought to know better, even if the men don't," she said.

Dr. Paul Revere Frothingham, pastor of the Arlington Street church, said: "There is nothing immoral about wom-

BRITISH BOOMERS

While a great number of highly educated Englishmen, journalists and others are going through this country in an effort to strengthen pro-British sentiment here, events are occurring in Britain that would seem to call for the enlightened guidance so freely offered by these intermeddling visitors to this country.

Some two months ago, several of these gentlemen addressed the convention of Middlesex county teachers, dealing with British rather than American topics and deplored the alleged tendency to entertain any prejudice against England "simply because she happened to be the mother country and the one against which the colonists fought." From this point, they proceeded to show, in their own way, that it was all a misunderstanding that England never did the terrible things charged against her by some of the colonists and that our school histories do not tell the truth about the revolution. For this alleged reason, it is understood that a number of these British propagandists, teachers and writers are engaged in rewriting our school histories so as to show that England's course towards the colonies was one of justice and benevolence, and that she, England, rather than the revolutionary fathers, is the founder of our American freedom.

PORT OF BOSTON

Few men have done more to develop the port of Boston than Col. William A. Gaston of the Shawmut Avenue bank. Mr. Gaston has repeatedly published pamphlets upon the development of the port of Boston and urging shippers to use that port of Boston in preference to New York. He is still pleading in the interest of developing the commerce of Boston, but apparently the results are not what might be expected. He holds that there have never been as great incentives for foreign trades as at the present time. War has stimulated our productive ability and increased manufacturing costs, making it imperative to employ every resource to the utmost. The surplus thus produced and available for foreign trade will help to reduce the unit cost and enable us to offer greater inducements to foreign buyers. Col. Gaston notes an increase in the trade of shipping firms between Boston and South America, the Baltic and the Adriatic. Col. Gaston also points out that Boston is more advantageously situated for Atlantic trade than any other American port, its routes being shorter not only to Europe but to Africa and South America.

That Mr. Ratcliffe is one of the propaganda corps, is proved by the fact that he had been expected back from England in time to address the teachers' convention referred to, but his ship reached port as the convention closed. His place was well filled, however.

If Mr. Ratcliffe thinks his counsel is desired or likely to be accepted by Americans, he is much mistaken. Judging from the state of affairs in England, he might serve his country better if he urged his government to stop shooting the people of Ireland under the pretense that the police, the castle or the government officials have been attacked when such is not the case.

The liberal party has been submerged in the old Tory regime and its party government is not quickly restored, the liberals will vote with the laborites and sweep the country.

These British advisers are over here to help us run our affairs according to British ideas. They will fail in their purpose. They cannot make the United States a province of the British empire. The British colonies, Canada, Australia and India are beginning to see the absurdity of remaining colonies of the empire and of being obliged to help Britain fight her battles of imperial aggrandizement. All these colonies see the light of independence gleaming in the distance as their ultimate destiny; and Englishmen, we presume, following their course in reference to the United States, will tell Independent Canada, Independent Australia and perhaps also Independent Ireland, that it was never the intention of England to hold them in subjection.

Already in Canada, a movement for independence is being organized and it will receive enthusiastic assistance from various elements of the people of this republic.

Hence, we feel that we are only stating a simple fact when we say that the hordes of British propagandists now in this country agitating for a reunion of the United States with England and her English-speaking colonies, should go home and stop meddling in our local affairs, stop trying to blot out historical facts and stop trying to throttle the spirit of true Americanism.

WILSON NOT AN ISSUE

Senator Lodge and others who fear the candidacy of President Wilson for a third term need have no such dread.

Those who are familiar with the president's condition realize that he is not physically fit to enter any more political fights. In all probability, if he lives till March 4 of next year, he will rejoice in the

MR. GOMPERS' WORD

President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, is evidently viewing the radical monach in its true light at last. In a magazine article, he makes this statement relative to the present industrial situation:

"America will prosper this year if Americans do the work that waits to be done. If production rises to the level it should reach, if bickering and recrimination cease, nothing can prevent this from being a banner year. And why shouldn't Americans do their work? Will they let a few reactionaries among the leaders of business stop them by denying justice and imposing autocracy? Will they let self-appointed radical leaders, disciples of the Bolsheviks, tyrannical in their desire to impose the will of a minority on all the people, stop them? Americans are not fools. They will resist and resent tyranny or injustice. They will let no autocrats pluck their pockets, whether those autocrats wear silk hats or red neckties."

It has been well known for some time past, that the radicals have been trying to use the labor unions as a means of promoting their revolutionary aims. Now that Mr. Gompers realizes what is going on, the conservative members of the unions will stand firmly against the Reds. Mr. Gompers, in the above utterance, sounds the keynote of the anti-radical campaign.

SHUTTING OFF CITY WATER

In future, the water department should not shut off the water in tenement property without first investigating whether any serious hardship may result to the tenants. The case that has just come to light on Davidson street, in which several families were without water for a period of ten days and, it is alleged, were obliged to drink filthy water from the river, should suffice to prevent a recurrence of any such blunder. It would be much better, in such cases, for the water department to obtain a lien on the property for the amount of the bill. In the case just referred to, it appears that the property was being transferred from one owner to another or else held under some legal process. The fact that such a condition existed should not operate to the injury of the tenants or the detriment of public health. An outbreak of typhoid fever may be the result of the privation to which these Davidson street families were exposed. The incident is one from which the water department should learn a valuable lesson.

THE JITNEYS

It seems that the people of Lowell cannot enjoy the luxury of electric car and jitney service on the same lines. They should be satisfied with reasonable car service at a moderate fare, and unless the jitneys are taken off the lines on which they compete with the cars, the trolley company will probably stop the service or else put up the fares. It seems that the jitneys should be confined to routes on which the cars don't run. Here they would be of actual service, but in competition with the cars, they are not necessary.

If the railway company promises lower fares, as we understand it does, in case the jitneys are taken off, it would seem to be good policy for the municipal council to shift the jitneys to other routes not covered by the electric cars—if they wish to continue in business.

STREET REPAIR GANGS

In his inaugural address, Mayor Thompson brought forward an important point in reference to the necessity of a street repair gang to be kept on duty regularly repairing minor breaks which, if left neglected, will soon become dangerous to passing vehicles.

The Sun has repeatedly suggested such repair gangs but somehow, they have never been kept permanently at work. The plan proposed by Mayor Thompson would add to the durability of many streets and save the city much expense even in damage claims.

The fight over the 18th amendment before the supreme court of the United States, promises to become historic. The decision sustaining the Volstead act was to be expected as being justified under the war time powers of congress. The legal battle over the amendment is one of vastly greater importance.

The railroad executives are rather anxious at the prospect of having the roads turned back without proper arrangements for conducting them successfully. The railroads can never be conducted as so many independent systems, the plan in operation before the war.

SEEN AND HEARD

It's all right to marry blindly if you can only be sure of staying blind.

Doctor Hillman Powder insists that rawysters are healthy because he never heard 'em complain.

The salary of the city judge of Canandaigua, N. Y., has been cut in half. Absence of drunks and little to do is the reason.

If you should get an invite to a little "sipping party" that feeling within you that constitutes good citizenship would probably, on account of the larceny from the police station cellar, urge you to tip the police, but the chances are you wouldn't do anything of the kind and the other big chance is that you will not get the invitation.

Button Materials

For no other human purpose are so many different kinds of material used as for buttonmaking. Products of the tiled field, the forest, the stream and the sea—vegetable, animal and mineral are turned to this account. Buttons are common, middle-class and aristocratic—from the bone button of the laboring man to the jeweled one in the turban of an Indian rajah or the symbol of rank on a Chinese mandarin's cap. Among the by-products of the pearl button industry are poultry grit, fish food and "condition powder" for hogs and chickens. The waste shell is a constituent of artificial marble and florile, and an ingredient of jewelry polishes, soaps and cleansing powders.

Under Suspicion

"Say," said the irate visitor, "you had something about me in your paper that has gotta be corrected."

"If the item was wrong," the editor smoothly replied, "we shall cheerfully do as you request."

"I told one of your reporters I saw a beautiful goldfish perching on a twig just outside the window of my bedroom."

"And when the item came out in the paper, it read 'Goldfish.'"

"That isn't so bad."

"Oh, isn't it though? Well, ever since I was in the paper friends of mine have been hanging about our house thinking I have a private supply of something to drink in my cellar."

MILKING THE WHALE

Like as not the milkman of the future will run out to the ocean pasture, milk his herd of whales, and be all set for the morning delivery. For whale milk is proposed by Capt. John B. Loop of Long Beach, Cal. He intimates that whale milk may be canned, or dried, or condensed, as cow milk is today, and transported to interior cities.

"Whale milk is richer and more palatable than cow's milk," the captain asserts. And he ought to know, for he has been whaling on the Pacific for years and years, during which time he often has brightened his breakfast coffee with whale milk. Of course it is no easy job milking a whale. Neither is milking a cow unless you know how. Being a better seaman than dairy expert the captain is a trifle wobbly when it comes to planning the whale dairy. But we are assured it will be easy. Only two things are necessary. They are:

1—Capture the whale alive.

2—Make her stand still while you're milking.

If you are figuring on starting your own whale dairy probably you had better capture your whales while they're young, so you can tame them. And, of course, you needn't plan a dairy barn such as you have seen on the farm. The whale dairy will be largely water. With oceans for pasture, the milkman cannot complain of the high cost of feed. Neither will it be necessary for him to hire a man to carry water from the well to the milk can, for there'll be plenty of water all around him.

Father dear, father dear, hark! the morning sun! They've scared the Cost-o-living and they've got it in the run. It gets up every morning and it runs to beat the Dutch; Hurry, father, hurry, for they've scared the nearly down!

Mother dear, mother dear, smell the cook is striking seven and the clock is striking too.

The family stomach's crying out as if to wake the dead; And mother dear, the cook-stove's getting jealous of the baby.

Daughter dear, daughter dear, let me break the news to you.

All the world is wide awake and putting on its shoes.

The sun is like a golden bug a-crawling up the sky;

Best get up and wash your face and hang it out to dry.

Sonny boy, sonny boy, you are in a trap.

Batted up at a piece of cheese called "Another one."

Your skin is getting bony and your hips are turning red;

Look out! the pillows are growing to your head.

Baby dear, baby dear, close your eyes again!

What a waste at four o'clock instead of half past ten!

Anybody else would love to swap a chance with you?

But you must wake the sun up, like a cock-a-doodle-dot!

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Prohibition has brought along with it all sorts of experiences, some sad and some really funny. The headlines of the past few weeks have furnished plenty of examples of the sad cases, but I heard a really funny one the other day about the ardor which has enveloped the country. It seems that a Lowell woman and her husband were traveling in Canada and friend-husband had been able to get hold of a fairly large quantity of good "cheer."

It was nicely packed in a suit-case amid an abundance of clothing and toilet articles and the Lowell couple started for this city. When they boarded the train they were positive that their precious cargo was in the suitcase and their only worry was whether it would be disturbed before they arrived home. As the journey progressed the husband thought he would enjoy a smoke, so he lit his wife to go to the smoking car. He took the suit-case

PLAN ROUND-UP

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—Physicians, dentists and veterinarians who have not filed their narcotic return with the Internal revenue office are to be rounded up within the next few weeks by revenue agents, according to plans announced today by Acting Collector Andrew J. Casey who has found 2000 such delinquents on records held at the office.

"Returns of manufacturers, wholesalers, retailers and practitioners handling narcotics must be made to this office by June 30 of each year. We have about 10,000 registrants under the different classes and at the close of the fiscal year last June there were 2000 who had not filed their returns. Letters were sent to these delinquents, most of whom were practitioners, but few replied to them. The yearly tax is only $3 and the penalty imposed for failure to file on time is 25 percent of that amount.

"The law provides, however," continued Mr. Casey, "that persons who violate the narcotic law may be punished by a fine of not more than $2000 or by imprisonment of not more than two years. Failure to file a return is considered a violation of the law and will not be condoned even if the returns are filed late."

On an area about 500 yards long and almost river-wide, there is excellent up-stream snow covered, but above the Pawtucket dam. The ice close to the flashboards and for about 100 yards up-stream is snow-covered, but above that it is clear and smooth on the surface. Moreover, it is perfectly safe, ranging in thickness from 6 to 12 inches. The ice company has cut a canal near the Pawtucket st. bank, but the good ice may be reached with ease from a number of points nearer the falls. The weather of yesterday was ideal for the sport and boys and girls and women pushing baby carriages on runners dotted the surface during the afternoon. As in other years, it is not possible to get onto the ice at the houses and skate to Tyngs Island, or beyond, but there is plenty of room for all on the smooth part. There is a policeman there, too, to keep venturesome people away from the channels cut by the ice割ters.

INCREASE TAX MONEY WOULD COST $982,000 NO U. S. REPRESENTATIVE TO REMODEL PRISON

City To Receive $1194.70 as Result of December Assessments

As the result of the assessment of property here in Lowell by the local assessors during the period between Dec. 10 and 20 of last year, the city will receive $1194.70 more 1919 taxes than originally raised by the assessors when they made their regular assessments last April.

The state tax laws give the local assessors the privilege of assessing any property during the period between Dec. 10 and 20 which they omitted to assess during the regular assessment period in April. This is an annual procedure.

Last month the property of 27 individual residents of Lowell was assessed and the property of five corporations, firms, etc. The property of one non-resident was assessed and of one corporation, making a grand total of 31 assessments.

The value of the personal estate assessed was $11,800 and of real estate, $34,150. The latter was divided into $22,200 for buildings and, $11,950 for lands. The total valuation of the property assessed was $15,950 and the total amount of the taxes when the city will receive from the belated assessments will be $1194.70.

The reason for the large amount of real estate being assessed in December rather than April is attributed by the assessors to the fact that the homestead buildings of Hildreth street, which were formerly under state control, have recently been turned over to individuals and the levy is thus made upon the individual owners.

GUILTY OF MURDER

Jury Took But Ten Minutes To Reach Verdict

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—One of the swiftest murder trials in New York state ended late yesterday when a jury in Brooklyn, after ten minutes deliberation found Frank J. Kelly, negro, guilty of murder in the first degree, for slaying Catherine Dunn, a maid in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sperry Clark on Dec. 13 last. Next Friday he will be sentenced to die in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison.

More than 4,000,000 pins are destroyed daily.

Charged with manslaughter in causing the death of Sylvester Carter, 80, of North Wilmington, who died yesterday at St. John's hospital as a result of injuries received in a recent automobile accident, John E. Burns of this city, pleaded not guilty in police court today and was held in $2000 for hearing Jan. 25. He furnished the bonds.

The police allege that Burns is the driver of the machine which struck Carter on Middlesex street Jan. 1. Carter's skull was fractured and all attempts to save his life were futile.

PABIS, Jan. 7.—Representatives of the United States it has been decided will not be present during the exchange of ratifications of the peace treaty of Versailles, which is still set for Jan. 10, but may be put over if all the details have not been completed by that date.

Signing of the peace protocol will precede the exchange of ratifications a few minutes.

RUSSIAN SINGER TO BE DEPORTED

CHICAGO, Jan. 7.—Georges Bakaloff, a Russian baritone of the Chicago Grand Opera Co., who sang the title role in the world premiere last week of "Bip Van Winkle," was arrested and held in $1000 bonds yesterday to face deportation proceedings. A federal department of labor warrant alleged Bakaloff is an undesirable alien.

Vera Amazer, also a singer, the complainant, told District Attorney Kline that Bakaloff had brought her to this country several years ago and had promised to marry her. He had persuaded her, she said, to accompany him on tours of this country and she had discovered later that he had a wife and children in Russia.

ROAD NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR GIRL'S DEATH

That the Boston and Maine railroad is not criminally liable for the death of Margaret Kano, 16, of this city, who was killed by a train on a private crossing in North Chelmsford Sept. 4 is the finding of Judge Pickman in his inquest report on the death of the girl made public today. Miss Kano was an operative at the Lowell Textile company's mill in that town.

After reviewing the circumstances surrounding the accident at some length, the inquest concludes:

"The accident appears to have been wholly due to Margaret Kano running in front of the approaching train when it was running at a high rate of speed on the crossing. I find that the conditions existing at the crossing relative to the use of it by a large number of persons in said mill as the only means of approach thereto, require that some action be taken by said textile company or said railroad to prevent accidents at the crossing by having a signal announcing the approach of trains to said crossing located near to it, or by other means to accomplish the same purpose."

"I find that the death of Margaret Kano was not caused or contributed to by the criminal negligence of the Boston and Maine railroad, or by any corporation, or any other persons."

SAYS WOMEN CANNOT SERVE ON JURIES

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—"Notwithstanding the marvelous development of womanhood in the past decade," there is no reason, judicial or otherwise, why women should serve on juries, in the opinion of Justice Lazansky of the supreme court. In an opinion handed down today he denied a writ of mandamus to compel the commissioner of jurors of Brooklyn to include representatives of the fair sex in making up its lists.

"The course of conduct of federal and state governments in limiting jury service to males has been so unvaried for so many years," Justice Lazansky said, "that to adopt any other course than to follow this rule of construction would be disregarding that which is practically if not entirely conclusive."

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Jan. 7.—The governor today reappointed Arthur G. Pollard of Lowell and George H. Ellis of Newton, trustees of the Massachusetts Agricultural college.

COMMUNITY COUNCIL MEETING MONDAY

When the community council of Lowell Community Service, Inc., holds its initial meeting next Monday evening, definite plans for a program of activities will be discussed and a number of constructive suggestions calling for almost immediate accomplishment will be presented for consideration.

With the organizing of the council, made up of representatives of at least 125 Lowell clubs, societies, churches and other organizations, the work of Lowell Community Service, Inc. will assume active life. There are a number of purely civic and community enterprises awaiting action and which wholly lie within the possibilities of this body and which, if they receive the endorsement of the council will be vigorously pushed.

The board of directors will meet on Friday evening and at this meeting also, a number of interesting ideas will be discussed.

Out of necessity Community Service, Inc. has been rather deliberate in formation, but with the organization of the council, it is assured that the city will be given several workable plans for community betterment.

NOON-DAY MEETING IN B. OF T. DRIVE

The citizens' executive committee of the board of trade re-organization campaign held its noon-day meeting at 12:30 o'clock at the New American hotel. It was reported that a man would be secured before tomorrow noon to serve as chairman of the committee to preside over all meetings and functions during the remainder of the campaign.

A report from the meetings' committee indicated that the attendance at the smoker and get-together tomorrow evening would tax the seating capacity of Memorial hall. Other routine business was transacted before adjournment.

FIRE IN BILLERICA

According to a report issued by the Billerica Fire department there were 75 alarms in the town during the past year, which were as follows:

Twenty-two alarms for building fires, four for automobiles, 23 for grass or brush fires, three were false, one for the underwriters' inspection, four were out-of-town calls and twice the department was called out to search for lost persons. The total value of property at risk in the fires, exclusive of brush or wood fires, was $35,125, and the total loss was $8029.57 or 16 per cent.

"THE NEW AMERICANISM"

Supreme President John Orrill of this city will preside at the "Tucker" lecture on "The New Americanism" to be given in Odd Fellows Temple, Middlesex Street, Friday evening, January 9, at eight o'clock. Mr. Joseph Whinot will lead the community singing which precedes the lecture. Tickets can be obtained from any of the members of Waverly Lodge, but after eight o'clock no seats will be reserved. There is no price for admission and no collection.

How Competition Helps You

The competition that exists among the hundreds of meat distributors, large and small, means

Rivalry in Prices
Rivalry in Service
Rivalry in Economy
Rivalry in Quality

Swift & Company sells meat at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality and service. Our profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound on all products is evidence of keen competition.

Swift & Company must provide the best service to your dealer or he will buy from our competitors. This means a supply of fine fresh meat always on hand for you at your dealer's.

Swift & Company must keep down manufacturing and selling costs, and use all by-products to avoid waste, or else lose money meeting the prices of competitors who do.

Swift & Company must make its products of the highest quality, or see you turn to others. This means better meat for you and a greater variety of appetizing, wholesome food.

We are as glad for this competition as you should be. It helps to keep us on our mettle.

BIG GET-TOGETHER

Democratic Leaders From All Parts of Country Continue To Arrive at Capital

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Democrats from all parts of the country continued to arrive in Washington today to attend tomorrow the Jackson day banquet, the famous quadrennial event of the democratic party when speakers considered of presidential "timber" discuss public questions.

Although the banquet is supposed to be a side issue to the meeting of the democratic national committee for the selection of the time and place for the national convention, main interest centers in it. A letter from President Wilson, announced an important, will be read, and an address by William Jennings Bryan will be delivered at the time.

It is estimated that 1500 democrats would attend the banquet which will be held in two sections. The same speakers will address both groups with prospects of the oratory extending until late into the night.

MORE MONEY FOR SEWER MAINTENANCE

Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy says he will have to get more money for sewer maintenance in 1920 than he did last year if the work is to be carried on properly. Owing to the expansion of the work of this department of municipal enterprise in the last few years, the sums allotted in the past will prove wholly inadequate in 1920, according to the commissioner. "Within the past few years there have been something like 200 or 300 catch basins added to the city's sewerage system," the commissioner said this morning, "and the maintenance of these naturally means more men and more money."

Last year the municipal council appropriated $17,000 for sewer maintenance when it was making up its annual budgets, despite the fact that Commissioner Murphy asked for $25,000. Various additional sums for sewer work were appropriated, however, later in the year.

CUNNINGHAM IS MADE LIEUTENANT

Edward J. Cunningham, who is a member of the protective company of the local fire department, has been promoted to Lieutenant, it was learned today. In the latter part of 1918 Mr. Cunningham had been promoted to Lieutenant by the then commissioner, George H. Brown, but when Commissioner Charles J. Morse took over the department, Cunningham, in company with other officers, was demoted. Just before retiring this year, however, Mr. Morse promoted Mr. Cunningham again and he now receives the wages of a lieutenant.

Having got this off our chest we feel at liberty to speak—or rather write—and properly identifying said property.

Sickness Cure or Sickness Prevention

When Pasteur proved the relation of germs to infectious disease, he marked a big advance in that development of medical science which reigns today—the idea of Sickness Prevention.

As a result, many plagues and epidemics that were the bane of former ages no longer terrify the world, and science has now developed an effective agent against the condition which is the first cause of over 90% of all human disease—constipation. That effective agent is Nujol.

Nujol by relieving constipation prevents the absorption of poisons which otherwise would be taken into the blood and so undermine the whole system.

Leading medical authorities agree that pills, salts, castor oil, etc., simply force and weaken the system. But Nujol is entirely different.

Nujol prevents constipation by softening the food waste and encouraging the intestinal muscles to act naturally.

Nujol helps nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world. Get a bottle from your druggist today.

For valuable health book—"Thirty Feet of Danger"—see, write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, N.Y.

Right at the beginning of this little yarn we want to say that this story is for women only.

One way to reduce carbon trouble

Heavy carbon deposits in the combustion chamber and on piston heads cause lots of engine trouble ranging from pre-ignition of the fuel charge to the destruction of the lubricating oil. This can be avoided. With uniform, high grade gasoline that possesses even vaporizing and ignition qualities, carburetion can be so perfectly regulated that the fuel charge is burned up completely, leaving a minimum of carbon deposit.

SOCONY Motor Gasoline meets every motor fuel requirement. It is carefully refined to a definite standard of high quality. It is as uniform as modern science can make it. Its carburetion and ignition qualities assure dependable power under all weather conditions. Standardize on SOCONY for motoring economy and satisfaction.

Mayor Kay of Fall River,
Says Street Railways Are Absolutely Essential

That Mayor James H. Kay of Fall River believes that street railways are an absolute necessity is contained in the following statement appearing in his inaugural address:

Street railways are absolutely essential to the well being and convenience of any community and proper service can not be rendered at a fair charge if we permit the diversion of legitimate street railway patronage to the so-called Jittery lines.

These lines are of a temporary character at best and are not subject to the restrictions and obligations imposed by law upon the street railways. Furthermore, they can never be depended upon to give the necessary service when such service is most required. An earnest attempt is being made by the street railway officials to give better service at a lower cost and in this effort the management should have the hearty support of not only the government but all who desire to see justice done.

It is our duty to offer such constructive criticism as we may to help bring about a solution of the difficulties under which the street railways are operated and if mutual good will can be established between the public and street railways, it will assist materially in bringing about the desired results.

O.M.I. CADETS' WELCOME HOME

Rousing Reception and Banquet in Y.M.C.L. Hall Last Evening

Veterans Congratulated For Their Honorable Part in the World War

Nearly every branch of service of the allied forces was represented at the welcome home reception and banquet which the O.M.I. Cadets gave their world war veterans last evening in Y.M.C.L. hall in Stackpole street, and although the 200 veterans present were but a fraction of the total man-power that the cadets gave in the great conflict, they were sufficiently representative to make the affair a splendid success and a bright, happy chapter in cadet annals.

Despite the earnest efforts of the committee in charge, it would have been an impossibility for it to bring together all the members and former members of the Cadets who served in the world war, for their number is legion. The cadets have been organized since 1904 and the alumni run into the thousands. But as aforesaid, last evening's representation was adequately typical of the spirit of the veterans who were absent.

An excellent turkey dinner served by Caterer Martin Lydon, a program of good speech-making and a series of entertainment features of the usual cadet standard were the high limits of the evening's affair.

The 150 veterans were given positions of honor as the dinner began. Seated with them were the present officers of the cadets in uniform together with past officers: Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., spiritual director of the organization; Mayor Perry D. Thompson and several other members of the municipal council. The hall was prettily decorated with pink and light green and the national colors.

Following the banquet, Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., arose and in a simple, yet impressive manner, told of the war record of the cadets. He referred touchingly to the many who failed to return. He made a plea for good citizenship on the part of the cadets and said that the training they had received in the organization would help them to become Americans of the highest type. In conclusion, he read a letter from George Busby, a former major of the cadets, who is now in Russia with the United States forces, fighting the Bolsheviks.

Major Perry D. Thompson was given a hearty greeting when he was introduced and after referring humorously to boyhood experiences of Rev. Fr. Sullivan and himself, he made mention of the value of cadet training and discipline in the upbuilding of a community and congratulated the veterans on the honorable part they had played in the world war.

Bernard McArdle, former military instructor, and Mathew McCann, athletic instructor, spoke in a happy vein and expressed their pleasure at being among the "boys" again.

Commissioner John F. Salmon received a great ovation as he rose. He prefaced his talk with a series of humorous experiences he had encountered overseas and becoming more serious, paid a high tribute to the fighting qualities of the cadets. Capt. Winfred C. MacBrayne, in a brief address, pointed out the need of continuing the excellent training which the cadets were receiving.

Lieut. Joseph M. Reilly, the dean of the cadet commissioned officers, was next called upon. He told of Rev. Fr. Sullivan's love for the cadets and his untiring efforts in their behalf; he said that the love of "the boys" for him was just as great. On behalf of all the cadets he thanked Rev. Fr. Sullivan and the committee in charge for the opportunity of being present and led in three rousing cheers for the spiritual

Then came solos by Commissioner James E. Donnelly, accompanied by Paul Angelo, and then Mr. Angelo entertained with a piano solo. A series of lively boxing bouts followed with the Cronin brothers, "Tip" Quinn, Jack Farrell, "Kid" Corrigan, Thomas McCann, Douglas Flaherty and "Red" Murphy as the exponents of the many art. Martin Flaherty and Mathew McCann were the officials. Songs by John O'Brien, accompanied by Francis Italia, were next and the final bout brought Martin Flaherty, Sr., and Martin Flaherty, Jr., into the ring in lively spar.

Among those seated at the head table were Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I.; Col. Francis Ralls; Francis Gargan, military instructor; Supt. Gerald Cahill of the U. S. Cartridge Co.; Mayor Thompson and Commissioner Donnelly and Salmon; Rev. James J. Stanton, O.M.I.; Rev. Lawrence F. Tighe, O.M.I., pastor of the Immaculate Conception church; Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I.; Rev. James B. McCarthy, O.M.I.; Francis Flanagan, Russell Harrington, William Conway, Bernard McArdle, Daniel T. Sullivan, Capt. Winfred C. MacBrayne and Lieut. Col. Alfred Burns.

The committee in charge of the affair included: Francis E. Gargan, chairman; Col. Francis L. Ralls; Lieut. Col. Alfred Burns, Samuel J. O'Neill, Robert Leith and the commissioned officers of the regiment.

"EVANGELIZATION OF THE WORLD"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 7.—A three days' conference of the Inter-church World movement, at which a program of Protestant denominational co-operation for the "evangelization of the world," will be formulated and the amount of money necessary for this purpose will be determined, opened here today.

More than 1000 delegates, representing about 20 denominations and 200,000 churches in all sections of the United States, are here for the meetings. The conference was called by Robert Lansing, secretary of state, chairman of the general committee of the inter-church movement.

Estimates as to the amount of money necessary to carry out the plan vary from $500,000,000 to $1,000,000,000.

An independent campaign, for which $100,000 already has been raised, will be conducted by the Methodist Episcopal church. Its slogan is "One million new members by June 1."

There is practically no wear-out to the mechanism of a Cadillac car. It is substantial and secure in the first place, and the adjustments provided are more than probably will ever be needed. Our list of used cars today is as follows:

- 1—Type 57 Victoria Refinished
- 1—Type 57 Brougham or Sedan
- 1—Type 57 Roadster
- 1—Type 55 Touring, Refinished

ROGERS SCORES PLEA FOR BERGER

Calls on Boston Men To Retract Vote Urging Congress To Seat Socialist

Demands Apology For Request To Vote in Violation of Oath of Office

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—Representatives Rogers and Treadway yesterday protested to Massachusetts organizations from which they had received letters or telegrams requesting them to vote in favor of seating Victor Berger, Representative Rogers called on the Hebrew Bakers' union of Boston to request to the House to seat Berger.

Congressman Rogers, in reply to a letter asking him to vote to seat Berger, wrote as follows:

Jan. 6, 1920.
Mr. B. Reissmann, Secretary, Hebrew Bakers' Union, 107 Brunswick St., Boston, Mass.

Dear Sir: I have just received your circular of January 2d which "demands" that I use my vote and influence to prevent the unseating of Berger in the house of representatives.

I voted to exclude Berger on November 10th last and am eagerly looking forward to the opportunity which I hope will come within a day or two of voting to exclude him again. I shall vote in the same manner just as often as his misguided constituency sees fit, to re-elect him. I very much regret and deplore the fact that a Massachusetts organization "should take a position in favor of seating this man in congress. My objection to Berger as a congressman is not to him as an individual, as a socialist, nor even in time of war, he gave aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States and violated the constitutional and fundamental laws of this land. He conspired to obstruct the draft and the effective prosecution of the war. He did all that he could to tie the hands of the country in its hour of peril. I am content to stand in this matter with Abraham Lincoln, who said:

"Must I shoot a simple-minded soldier boy who deserts, while I must not touch a hair of a wily agitator who induces him to desert? This is none the less injurious when effected by getting a father, or brother, or friend into a public meeting, and there working upon his feelings till he is persuaded to write the soldier boy that he is fighting in a bad cause for a wicked administration, too contemptible even to wish him fit to desert. I think that, in such a case, to silence the agitator and save the boy is not only

British R.R. Men To Reject Offer

LONDON, Jan. 7.—In some of the important railway centres, the men have decided to accept the government's offer in settlement of the wage controversy but according to the Herald, the laborite organ, all reports indicate that the conference of railway men, to be held today, will reject the offer. The newspaper adds that in many quarters, there is a strong demand for a national strike, if the government refuses the original claims of the men.

James H. Thomas, secretary of the National Union of Railwaymen, speaking at Kettering, said the crisis was very serious and that the people were getting alarmed at the prospect of a rupture.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Delegates of railroad men's unions assembled at union headquarters here today, to discuss the government's proposition in settlement of the wage demands of employees of the lower grades. Sixty delegates, representing 1100 local unions with 500,000 members, were in attendance.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business on Wednesday, Dec. 31.

British Pound Computed at $3.85

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The British pound will be computed at $3.85 in American money by the war department in making January disbursements, it was announced today. The franc will be "stabilized" for this month at 11 to the dollar and Italian lire at 13.

Shortage of Automobiles Predicted

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—A shortage of automobiles this year was predicted here today, by members of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, although they estimated that the passenger car output for the year would exceed 2,000,000. The shortage at present was placed at one million cars.

Hungarian Peace Delegation at Paris

PARIS, Jan. 7.—The Hungarian peace delegation, numbering about 60 persons and headed by Count Apponyi, arrived here this morning by special train. It was conducted at once to Chateau Madrid, Neuilly, where it will stay during its sojourn in Paris.

try and upon their return they will make their home at 155 Salem street.

Sicard—Gendreau

A pretty marriage took place this morning at St. Louis' church when Mr. Napoleon Sicard, a well known resident of Pawtucketville and Miss Alice Victoire Gendreau, a popular young woman of Dracut Centre, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a civil mass celebrated at 7 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. J. B. Labossiere. The bride wore white satin trimmed with pearls, and veil and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her brother-in-law, Mr. Alfred Menard. The bridegroom's witness was his brother, Mr. J. Racette. At the close of the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Alfred Menard, 156 Salem street and later the couple left on an extended wedding trip and upon their return they will make their home at 155 Salem street.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings the clubrooms at the International Institute presented a busy scene. Wednesday, being the Greek Christmas, the Phi Alpha Alpha club decided to fill baskets full of good things for needy families in the Greek community.

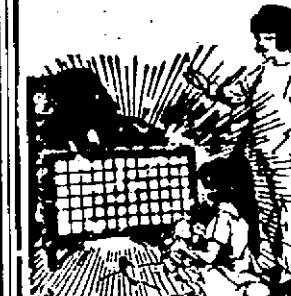

The club members collected money from the merchants of the community and had a collection taken in their church for the purpose. Twenty-four baskets containing lamb, canned tomatoes, butter, sugar, cheese, rice, oranges, lemons, apples, nuts, bread, candy and toys were distributed. Mr. Hough assisted the club by lending his automobile for the distribution of the baskets.

REENLIST IN NAVY

Two Lowell men, both of whom formerly served in Uncle Sam's fighting fleet, re-enlisted in the navy this morning at the local station. They were John J. Cote, 10 Middlesex place, who signed up as first class seaman and Joseph A. Savage, 10 Woodbury street, who went down as gunner's mate.

BULLETIN FROM LOWELL COMMUNITY SERVICE, INC.

It Is No Time To Quit Cold!

If you could expect community service (money, co-operation or work from all) to win the war, why not for the reconstruction and better conditions in peace times?

Of course, Lowell expects all to do something for Lowell Community Service.

The job is not finished till times are normal again, but good-will must never die out.

Today we must finish what we fought for—Peace, good-will and proper conditions. We must continue to pull together.

To close out—we are offering our remaining lot of Simplex Radiant Heaters (like cut shown above) for Only $5.98.

Provides additional warmth at the push of a switch. Useful in bathroom, den, chilly corners, etc., wherever a little extra warmth is required.

The Electric Heater is safe, clean and convenient. Attaches to any electric socket and can be carried about from place to place. Only a few left—Buy now.

JUST COAL

CANNEL COAL—For open fire-place or to bring up your furnace fire quickly when it is down.

GENUINE FRANKLIN COAL—From the original Franklin mine, the best of all coals.

JEDDO EGG—The choicest of all the Lehigh Coals mined.

LACKAWANNA—In No. 1 Nut, Stove and Egg. These coals recently unloaded on our trestle are the best looking Lackawanna coals we have seen this season.

OUR SPECIAL—No. 1 and No. 2 mixed at $13.10 is the best buy on the market. We unload this coal in your bin so that it is thoroughly mixed. Some prefer it to the straight nut or stove and you save sixty cents a ton on it.

On any of the above we shall be pleased to receive your order and we can deliver in 24 hours or less.
